Preface

This research of the forebearers of Walter Hero Ellis begins with their arrival in America. Where their origins have been traced by others, that history is included in the genealogy.

The greatest single cause for the settlement of North America by our English ancestors was the translation of the bible from Latin into the common languages of Europe in about 1450. As the translation gained wide popular distribution, the people began to compare the teaching and practices of the established church with what they considered to be the clear teachings of the Christian bible. In time many defied the royal soverign who supported the established church and secretly established their own churches. The Puritans evolved from these clandestine services.

Much history involving the American Continent transpired before the first Puritan Pilgrim set foot on these shores. Spain had established an empire in the New World a hundred years before England's first pioneers. The Dutch Indian Company sponsored Henry Hudson's trip on the Half Moon in yet another attempt to find the Northwest Passage in 1604. The vast river which Hudson discovered and gave his name was the means of travel twenty years later for the Dutch who settled Albany. Two years later, the Dutch West Indian Company purchased Manhattan Island from the Indians as a fur trading post. Virginia had been explored and settled by the English in 1607 and the French were in Canada. The Pilgrims were not the first nor the Puritans the last to come to the new world. In about 1639 the Swedes came to America, introducing the log cabin.

The chronology of events in England determined the Puritans' restlessness. From 1424, when James 1 was crowned king of Scotland, to Queen Elizabeth 1, the Puritans were persecuted by the ruling soverigns.

When Elizabeth 1 died in 1603, the Puritans hoped for sympathy from their new King James of Scotland, a Stuart raised in the Presbyterian faith. But when he succeeded to the throne in 1603, he demanded all conform to the church of England or leave the country.

In 1602, Englishmen had landed at Cape Cod, named for the fish which abounded there. They remained only one month but their takes interested other sea captains.

In 1605 George Weymouth found Cape Cod and sailed east and up the Kennebec River to what was to be called Maine. Further settlements failed until 1614 when Capt.

John Smith explored the region and forseeing its importance, gave it the name New England.
Virginia, chartered in 1606, was where King James assumed the dissenters would escape. Instead, as Pilgrims, they went to Holland where they joined other English exiles in 1607. The same dissention among the English exiles drove them to return to England where they planned the emigration to the New World. The Pilgrims headed for that country around the Delaware River, north of the settlement of Virginia. Two ships set sail but one, the Speedwell, had to return because of leaks. One hundred of its passengers crowded aboard the Mayflower, straining the already overcrowded group and overburdened food supplies. They set sail under the auspices of the London Company on September 6,1620 and arrived at Cape Cod on November 9,1620. Due to storms at sea,they landed far north of their goal. They stayed aboard ship for five weeks while search parties explored the area. The name Plymouth had already been given to the land they chose by Capt. John Smith. It is only coincidence that they had set sail from Plimouth, England and settled in a place of the same name. By the following year, only 49 Pilgrims had survived. In ten years, there were still only 300 Pilgrims.
Charles 1 succeeded James as King in 1625 and by 1629, the Puritans were driven into hiding. It was then that serious steps were taken to form the Massachusetts Bay Company. Massachusetts Bay Company had received its charter from Charles 1 in 1628 and the Puritans began their exodus in 1630. They came to Charlestown, Watertown, Roxbury, Dorchester, Weymouth, Cambridge and to Boston. From 1629 to 1640 when Charles 1 governed his country without a Parliament, the Puritans came until 25,000 had left, settling New England. The Puritans' exodus came to an end when the Puritans themselves governed England. From that time until after the Revolutionary War, scarcely more than a handful of English immigrated to New England.
For 150 years New England was predominately English, with very few emigrants from even Wales though their ancestors may have been Welsh. These men were mostly country squires and farmers of decorous behavior. A few skilled craftsmen were here but for the most part, they were fishermen, shoemakers, farmers and carpenters. There were wheelwrights, coopers and blacksmiths among them. These artisans were in great demand because of their scarcity.
The English officials became alarmed at the exodus of the best men of the country. Restriction of emigration was effected in 1634. Each adult passenger was required to swear allegiance to the Crown and to sign a certificate before leaving the mother country. Ships were searched before their departure for persons attempting to leave without permission. Frequently parents found it necessary to leave some of their children in England until they could arrange later passage for them with other families.

The churches of London and its Lord Mayor sponsored the voyages of hundreds of homeless waifs, orphans and foundlings of slums as they were thought to ruin the city's economy as well as the health and well-being of its citizens. In 1618 one hundred children were transported to Virginia where they were to serve as servants to the planters. Three such children were on the Mayflower's first trip. Richard, Jasper and Elinor More were their names. Richard, the survivor at an advanced age, used the term "transported" in his deposition of 1648, describing his voyage to the new land. In 1622 the transporting of these children was deemed beneficial to the new plantation and to England. Not all the children were sponsored or legally taken from England to New England and Virginia. From the first voyage of the Mayflower to the Seabridge's trip in 1636, transporting children became organized commercial enterprises and children were kidnapped from the streets of London by unscrupulous men and sent to America where their services were sold. Search was made of all ships before departure to insure that these children were not taken without au - thority and sold into slavery in America.

Richard Ellis, the son of a Welshman who was serving as a British officer in Dublin at the time of his death , was sent to America. Not our ancestor, he was born in 1704 and at the age of about thirteen, his mother was to buy his cabin passage to Virginia where she hoped he would live with his uncle. On landing at a Massachusetts port, the dishonest captain of the vessel sold the boy's time until he was of age, claiming he was a pauper. He married Jane Phillips and became the founder of the Ashfield branch of Ellises. His youngest son Caleb, settled in Ellisburg, N.Y. and a grandson settled Ellisburg,Va.

Between three and four hundred Scottish prisoners of war, captured by Cromwell in the Battles of Dunbar and Worcester, were sent to New England and sold as slaves. They were mostly used in the iron works in Lynn and in Springfield later. White servants were preferred to blacks by the colonists as they were thought to be more profitable, served better in war and afterwards became planters. The colonists made every effort to incorporate these prisoners into the villages, making the purchase of land or grants available to them. By 1680 most of the former Scottish prisoners were married and living as planters. Actually, not more than one family of every seven or eight had a single slave in New England. Children of slaves in Massachusetts were given free use of the free schools. Every child born in New England since 1641 of slaves, was declared free at birth and the courts upheld this law.

The purchase of Indian children of captive prisoners was prohibited in the colony without special permission of the government in 1678. Indian adults were sold or exchanged for blacks. In 1650 a negro maid sold for 25 pounds and a negro boy, in 1657 brought 20 pounds. Slaves were probably bought in Boston. John Eliot seems to have been the first to raise his voice in protest against negro slaves received in Massachusetts.

Governor Winthrop stated that his settlers at his arrival were bond servants. These settlers who had traveled with him were given their freedom because of the problem of provisions here although they had cost him from 16 to 20 pounds each.

The Puritans did not tolerate any freedom of religion to any but their sect. Newcomers were forced to accept the Puritans' religion or be ostracized. Quakers in particular were treated abominably. They were forbidden to set foot in Massachusetts and if they did so, were treated severely and atrocities perpetrated on them. They came to New England in search of freedom of religion.

The Puritans' political life was not an easy one. The grants made in England confused the grants already in existence. New grants, like that to Sir Ferdinando Gorges made for great difficulties. He and John Mason were granted all the land between the rivers Kennebec and Merrimack. Robert Gorges, son of Sir Ferdinando obtained a grant of some 300 square miles in Massachusetts in 1623. With Sir Ferdinando well landed with all of Maine and Capt. Mason all of New Hampshire, the Puritans in Massachusetts had much to fear as these men were determined to incorporate all of the state into their holdings. In 1635 Sir Ferdinando was made "lord governor of New England." But for Mason's death soon after, the earlier death of his son and Sir Ferdinando's arrival in the New World having been postponed because the ship on which he was to have sailed, was wrecked at its launching, New England might have been one vast territory owned by Gorges. He died in 1647 and Massachusetts, Plymouth, Rhode Island and Connecticut continued to function as independent commonwealths. In 1675-76, King Philip's War was nearly disasterous for the Puritans' towns in Massachusetts. Connecticut being better prepared, was untouched and sent her troops for service in Massachusetts and Plymouth. Of the ninety towns then existing, twelve were destroyed and forty more were the scenes of fire and death. Hardly a family was left untouched by death or capture. Medfield and Lancaster were partially destroyed by the war but the town of Sherborn had only one house burned though five or six people were killed there.

The settlers of Mendon were warned in time to flee to better fortified outposts. At the time, Mendon was the fartherest settlement in the western part of Massachusetts. In Sherborn, the garrison house built by Benjamin Bullard with the help of Nicholas Wood , Henry Leland and Thomas Holbrook became the sanctuary for the settlers. In this fort, Silence (Wood) Holbrook was born the day after the death of her father and her mother died a few hours after her birth.

King Philip was the son of Massasoit, friend of the Pilgrims. His Indian name was Metacomet. After the deaths of his father and brother, he became chief sachem of the Wampanoag Indians, in America. The Indians had long been made desperate by the grasping of their lands by the white men and when,in 1674, three of the Wampanoag nation were executed at Plymouth by the white men for the alleged murder of an Indian convert, Philip could no longer contain them. The outbreaks began in June, 1675, in Swanzey. At Deerfield, September of that year, about sixty English were killed and many captured. The settlement was temporarily abandoned. Rhode Island suffered also as it was unprepared.

Early one morning in February, 1675, in Medfield, our Samuel Morse went to his barn to feed his cattle. He discovered an Indian hidden in the hay. He quickly turned his cattle out of the barn,took his family and hurried to the garrison. As if by signal, his house was fired and other fires began in all directions. A cannon was fired as a signal to the people of Dedham and the Indians took flight. They took prisoners with them and held a celebration feast on a hill near town. By the spring of 1676, the frontier was more peaceful and by 1678 the Indians were no longer a menace in New England until the French used them in their border raids. On August 1, 1676, Philip's wife and nine year old son had been captured and on August 11 of the same year, Philip was killed by an Indian near Bristol, R. I. while trying to escape the English. His head was sent to Plymouth where it was placed on a pole near the center of town to remain for a quarter of a century. Our Rev. James Keith is said to have been instrumental in saving the son of King Philip from death. Instead he was sold as a slave. The war lasted for fifteen months and all the settlers' energies were directed fighting. The mortality rate per capita was higher than in any subsequent American war.

Homes

Trees were of great value in the new settlement. The fine trees, so scarce in England, were cut and shipped to the homeland for masts and shipbuilding. Each town had its woodlot and the use of it was strictly accounted. The use of clapboards was first denied the Puritans because of the ever present danger of fire. Roofs had to be thatched because of the necessity for immediate shelter though the thatching was an invitation to Indians to set them ablaze. By 1651, shingles were in general use for roofing. A ladder long enough to reach the roof and the top of his chimney was required of all householders. Houses had to be built within a specified time after the lot was granted. Most towns required no man build farther than one-half mile from the meeting house for his own protection as well as to assist in the protection of the others. The proprietors were granted larger acreage for farmland on the outskirts of the settlements.

Single men were obliged to give an account of themselves at regular intervals. The proprietors were less than content with bachelors. No proprietor was allowed to sell land to persons not known to the town people without the council's approval and bonds were required for the keeping of servants.

Travel was first accomplished by canoe or boat. Oxen were common but horses were not introduced to northeastern America for several years. In 1624, three heifers and a bull were brought to Plymouth from England. In 1630, there were only three cows in all New England.

The first candles were made from wax taken from bee trees. Pine, a source more available than wax, was used in the absence of tallow which had to be imported. The Indians showed the settlers how to make lights of wood from pine trees, cloven in two little slices. These splints being full of turpentine and pine pitch, gave a steady clear flame. Lamps made of tin with a wide wick burned whale or sea-horse oil which was in plentiful supply. As fuel, peat was used when wood was scarce. Forks were not introduced into this country for many years after the settlers first planted their homes. Knives and wooden spoons were used as cutlery at the table, wooden cups and mugs were utensils from which to drink. The families ate from a large wooden trencher hollowed out into a sort of bowl.

Bedsteads were unknown at first. Sacks filled with corn husks or straw were placed on bunks. Later,beds with high posts from which heavy curtains could be hung to keep out the cold were in use. Sheets were usually made of wool for added warmth. Feather beds were introduced as fowl became more numerous.

Salt had to be imported. It was used as exchange for the large quantities of lumber sent to England. Potash was bartered for "boughten goods." Potash for soap was secured by burning down trees,adding grease or hog fat. There was little grass in the early settlements as most of the land was forest. Meadow land was in demand. Goats were kept for their milk and sheep for their wool. Wild game and fish were abundant and native fruits served our ancestors well. Beer was a common beverage and made at home at first. Later, brew houses were built and cider mills were erected. Coffee was not used until 1700 and tea was almost unknown. After 1739, owners of the wealthy homes served teas. Chocolate was used earlier than either tea or coffee. Sugar was rare but molasses was abundant. No sweets were served in the colonies except at funerals or weddings. Vinegar was made from the sap of maple trees.

The homes of the 1600's were usually two room affairs. The common or livingroom and the sleeping room were all considered necessary. The livingrooms contained benches or stools with a settee for adults, a board for a table which could be stored against the wall and in some cases, a chest. Animal skins were hung on the walls to keep out the cold. Fireplaces were huge and one usually served two rooms. Some of these were large enough to place a chair in and children played, when there was no fire set, by walking from one room to the other through the fireplace. Fires were kept burning for light as well as for warmth. Glass was not available and small windows with oiled paper served for summer but usually were boarded in winter.

Settlements were usually made near springs. Later, wells were dug but the village supplied the women of the town for many years.

Locations

The majority of our ancestors came to that part of Massachusetts near Boston. There was a small tribe of Indians called Massachuset Indians who were friendly to the settlers around Boston. Its name means "large hill place" and from it came the state's name. They were an Algonkin tribe, living along the New England coast from Plymouth to Salem. They became Christians after the white men settled and eventually lost their identity.
Dedham, by the Charles River, was ordered settled on September 8, 1636 by the General Court of the Massachusetts Bay Colony, upon the petition of twenty-five men of Watertown. The majority of these men remained in Watertown or settled elsewhere. Coming directly from England in 1637 were seven more men. It is thought that the name was given for Dedham, England from which town several of the first settlers imigrated. The importance of meadow and uplands were factors in the settlement of the town as it had meadows in abundance.
Within the original Dedham boundaries are now the towns of Medfield, Wrentham, Medway, Bellingham, Needham, Walpole, Franklin, Dover, Norwood, Wellesley, Millis and parts of Sherborn, Natick, Foxoborough, Hyde Park and even the city of Boston. Our ancestors removed or were already within the boundaries of several of these new towns. Medfield, Wrentham and Medway, as well as Sherborn, were the home sites of many of our ancestors.
The new town of Medfield, granted by the General Court in 1649 was first undertaken by Dedham men. Its name was "Dedham Village." Ensign Phillips, John Dwight and Daniel Fisher were chosen by the town to lay out the grant from Dedham. The name was probably chosen because of the proximity of the English towns of Dedham, Medfield and Wrentham. Medfield once received a gift of a bell from Medfield, England. The first houselots granted to the thirteen original settlers: John Ellis, Ralph Wheelock, Samuel Bullen, Daniel Morse, Joseph Clark, Francis Hamant, John Turner, John Frary, Timothy Dwight, Robert Hinsdale, Thomas Wight and John Wight. The last recorded action taken in Dedham for Medfield's affairs was January 11, 1651. Henry Adams was chosen the first clerk of writs. The first selectmen were Ralph Wheelock, Timothy Dwight, Robert Hinsdale, John Frary and Thomas Albee. Thomas Ellis received one of the early house-lots as did Nicholas Rockwood, Alexander Lovell, Abraham Harding, Henry Adams, Edward Adams, Peter Adams, John Fussell, Margaret Sheppard, John Thurston, Joshua Fisher, and George Barbour. The first mill was built with the agreement of the town in 1651.

By 1675 nineteen of our ancestors were among the sixty-three inhabitants of Medfield who contributed to the "new brick college" which was Harvard; twenty-five were proprietors of the town of Medfield among the seventy-five names.

Medway was originally part of Medfield. The new town was established in 1713.

The first transfers of grants to the people of Sherborn were made on May 8, 1652. Thomas Holbrook and Nicholas Wood were the first to take possession but were soon followed by Benjamin Bullard, George Fairbanks, John Hill and Thomas Breck. By 1658 Daniel Morse was established in Sherborn. Bogistow was the early name for Sherborn as Contentment was the early name for Dedham. The land which the new settlers acquired was sold to them by "several gentlemen of this country" and is in Middlesex County whereas Dedham is the Norfolk County seat and Medfield is in Norfolk County. It was first settled by four men from Dorchester.

Wrentham, another of our ancestral towns, was laid out by the town of Dedham and directed by them for a long time, founded by men of Braintree. In 1673 it was incorporated and detached from Dedham.

At the time of King Philip's War, Mendon was the last western outpost of the white man. It was called Nipmug by the Indians but the name Mendon was given about the time of its incorporation in 1667. This town was comprised of men from Braintree and Weymouth. It is in Worcester County.

These families of ours continued their slow western movement as their sons and sons-in-law needed land. Hopkinton and Holliston were the birthplaces of later ancestors in Middlesex County. Holliston was originally part of Sherborn and incorporated in 1715. Hopkinton consisted of land purchased in part with money given to Harvard College by Edward Hopkins, merchant of London and Governor of Connecticut in 1700. It obtained the privileges of a town in 1724.

The original white settlers of Milford called it Mill River. It was part of land taken from Mendon and incorporated in 1780.

Also in Middlesex County is the town of Sudbury where six of our ancestors were early grantees in 1638 and 1639. The plan for the new settlement is supposed to have originated in Watertown but most of its early settlers came directly from England. In Suffolk County, Sudbury was named for the English town of the same name. The General Court of Boston granted the town of Wenham, formerly called Enon by its early settlers, in 1643. It also is supposed to have derived its name from a town in England, Sussex County. The original land was part of Salem, Essex County. The earliest settlements were supposed to have been made there in 1639 and the first sermon preached by Hugh Peters, a minister of Salem in 1636.
The Indian name of Agawam, "fishing station" was Ipswich's first title. A seaboard town, it is in Essex County and its town records go back to 1634. John Winthrop, jr. and twelve others began the first settlement in Ipswich in 1633. John Fuller and Mark Symonds were belonging to Ipswich in 1634. In 1635 William White and Robert Kinsman were listed among the inhabitants. By 1648 Ward, Warner and Ringe had, with others joined the small settlement as first settlers. All are our forebearers.
Paul Ellis was the first of our ancestors to disappear from the records of these towns. He was located in Royalston, near the New Hampshire border. Royalston is in Worcester County and was named in honor of Col. Isaac Royal of Medford, one of its original proprietors. It was granted to Royal, Erving, Hubbard and others in 1752 and incorporated in 1765.
New Salem was our Ellis' next home. In Franklin County, New Salem borders the Quabbin Reservoir and is in beautiful, rugged country. It was settled by families from Middleborough and Danvers, incorporated in 1753. It was named for Salem, Essex County. Proprietors in Salem obtained their first grant in 1734 and located there a year later. Jeremiah Meacham made the first settlement in the vast wilderness for the promise of ten pounds sterling for settling there. He came in 1737 and was quickly followed by others.
Governments of the towns were served by selectmen, assessors, town treasurers, clerk of writs, surveyors, tithing men, field drivers, fence viewers and sealers of weights and measures. Only freemen were allowed to vote and hold office. A freeman had to be a member of the towns' churches and take an oath of allegiance to the colonial government. A freeman bore the title of Mr. as did captains and mates of vessels, military captains, eminent merchants, school masters, doctors, magistrates, clergymen and college students with second degrees. The term Mrs. or Mistress was applied to the wives of these men, to the wife of an esquire, knight or baronet. Most married women of the day were addressed as Goodwife or Goody.

The hyphenated dates are explained by the fact that the new year used to begin March 25. March thus was the first month of the year. England and her colonies were reckoning time out of accord with the rest of the world until they changed their calendar in 1752. England had lost ten days by 1700 and was willing to accept the time revision. Thus, some of the dates in this geneology are double-dated from January to March 24th.

The name of the state of Massachusetts was eliminated in the family lines as redundant. When another state is involved, it is written in.

Ellis

The earliest record of the name Ellis is to be found in England in 1086 A.D. The Welsh branch derives its name from "Aleck's". Old records show there were Ellises in Wales in 815. Roderick the Great of Wales, ruler from 847-876 had a grandson named Elis. Roderick was a descendant of French kings, thus perhaps the fleur-de-lis on the Ellis coat of arms. The name in France has been written Halis, Ales, Elie, Ellies and Helis. Most of the Ellises are descended from a Norman ancestor who came to England from France with William the Conqueror. It is said that the emigrant from France was descended from the early kings of that country.

The family of Ellis was established at Kiddall Hall earlier than 1398. The Ellises of Kiddall Hall and Kent bore the same crests and used the same names of William, John and Thomas for their sons. The motto of their arms was Forte and Fidelia, which translates as Strength and by Faithfulness.

William Ellis was head of the pedigree and attorney-general to Richard 11 of England. At the time of Edward 1, they occupied the rank of gentry and held considerable property.

The name of Ellis has been variously spelled as Alis, Alice, Flitzellis, Ellice, Eyles, Elce and so forth in England. In America it was often spelled Ellice or Alis as well as Ellis.

Thomas Ellis, our ancestor, is believed to have been the Thomas Ellis baptized at Wrentham, England on December 13, 1629 and to have come to the new world in company with his brothers John, Richard, and Joseph and with a sister Ann. All settled in Dedham, Massachusetts in the mid-sixteen hundreds. Thomas, with others of Dedham, soon removed to the southwest to establish the town of Medfield, first called Dedham Village. Englishmen Ensign Phillips, John Dwight and Daniel Fisher were chosen by the town of Dedham to lay out a grant for this new territory before the middle of April, 1650.

Richard Ellis, one of Thomas' brothers, was baptized in 1600 and died in 1694. He came to Boston on the Lion in 1632. He was an original proprietor of Dedham and married Elizabeth French, daughter of William and Elizabeth French of Billerica.

John Ellis, another brother was the thirteenth signer of the Dedham Covenant, active in the affairs of the town, also removed to Medfield where he was among the original thirteen proprietors. He was admitted a freeman June 2, 1641. He died April 2, 1697, leaving a will dated September 24, 1690 and proved June 24, 1697. He married first, Susanna Lumber who died April 5,1653 and second, Joan Clap, widow of John Clap of Dorchester on June 16, 1655. His daughter Hannah was the first white child born in Medfield. He had six children and was a leading citizen of both Dedham and Medfield.

Joseph Ellis and their sister Ann have not been traced by this reasearcher.
Thomas Ellis married Mary Wight, daughter of Thomas and Alice Wight on May 21,1657. Her father is said to have come from the Isle of Wight off the coast of England in 1637. She was born in Dedham about 1640, married there. She died on March 7, 1692-3.
Thomas was granted a house lot in Medfield on North Street in the end of 1651 or 1652. His house was built as early as 1653. He received a grant of land in West Medway which he deeded to his son Samuel who conveyed it to his son Timothy on August 18, 1725. He deeded it to his son whose son Oliver, was deeded the same land in 1792 and he in turn, deeded it to his son Simeon in 1862. He, Simeon conveyed the land in 1862 to his youngest son David G. Ellis. Thomas died December 13, 1690 at Medfield.
Thomas was listed among the proprietors of Medfield in 1675 who voted to divided the 600 acres of common land among themselves. His name is among the twenty-nine of our ancestors who contributed "1 bush. Indian Corne and a half" to the "new brick college" which became Harvard College. Sixty-two of Medfield's inhabitants subscribed to the college in 1676.

*2.iv. Samuel Ellis was the son of Thomas & Mary (Wight) Ellis born in Medfield, November 9,1664 and died in Medfield, November 9,1712. He settled on the homestead in Medfield which he inherited by paying legacies to his sisters. Samuel married Deborah Lovell, December 20,1693. She was the daughter of Alexander and Lydia Lovell, born in Medfield, December 20, 1675 and died in Medfield, June 15, 1740. Her father's will provided "if any of my sons-in-law (Ellises) shall quarrel, or molest any said two sons, then they and their wives shall have but 12 pence apiece."
Samuel and Deborah Ellis resided in Medfield where their nine children were born.

Soldiers & Sailors in the War of the Revolution.) Timothy's marriage in Medway, May 17,1759 to Sarah Harding is the first on his records. It is possible he had an earlier marriage to another Sarah as the Medway records show "a son Paul born to Timothy Ellis and his wife Sarah, October 12,1758," eight months before his marriage to Sarah Harding.
Sarah(Harding)Ellis was the daughter of Isaac and Rahel(Hill) Harding, born June 12,1734 in Medway and died here March 31,1788.

imothy Ellis married, after Sarah's death, in Foxborough n February 11, 1790, Mrs. Susanna Paine.

His total service, eleven months and one day.
Paul Ellis married first, May 26,1779, Medway, Mary Clark, daughter of Asa and Betty(Barstow)Clark. Mary was born in Medway, October 22,1761 and died in Royalston, January 22,1786. Two children were born of

Paul Ellis married as second wife, Rebecca Homer, said to have been born in Stoneham, March 5, 1763, in Royalston April 5,1786. Rebecca applied for a widow's pension #W23010, August 15, 1839. Her application was approved and a certificate of pension was issued December 4, 1843 for $36.75 per annum to begin March 4, 1843. Rebecca died in New Salem, December 4, 1873, aged 80 years and 9 months of lung fever.
The property of Rebecca Ellis was sold February 29,1844. Included were linens, silver, shirts, 10 cannisters of tea, 3 cannisters with tea, wearing apparrel, China set, 4 wooden boxes, crockery, glassware, copper tea kettle, pewter items, tin ware, glass bottles, iron hollow ware, brass kettle, shovel and tongs, wooden clock, chest of drawers, 4' table, 3 old tables and light stand, looking glass, parisol, umbrella, carpet bag, 3 chairs, jewelry, stove and pipe, spectacles and bedding, all of which was purchased by her sons. She lived in Wendell death.
Paul Ellis was an assessor in Royalston from 1786 to 179[illegible] and in 1780, removed his family to New Salem where he wa[illegible] a farmer and bootmaker. He had three children at the tim[illegible] of his second marriage and three children were born to hi[illegible] in Royalston after his second marriage. In A Commerative Address at Royalston, August 23,1865, Hon. A. H. Bullock states:

New Salem Academy Reunion Banner, 1943 states:
"Paul Ellis, sr. was born in Medway, October 12, 1758. He came to New Salem from Royalston in 1800. His was the first Ellis family known in New Salem," and "Paul Ellis was by trade a shoemaker and carried on this vocation here from the time he came to town. His first wife was Mary Clark, born in Medway October 3, 1761. They were married on May 26, 1779 and Mrs. Ellis died on January 22, 1786, leaving two sons, Amos and Samuel. Mr. Ellis married his second wife, Rebeckah Homer, born in Stoneham, March 5, 1763, on April 5, 1786, and three children were born to them before they came to New Salem. They were Clark, Paul,jr. and Jesse. After the family had occupied their home in this town five more children were born. They were John, Silas, David, Philo , and James.
Amos, the oldest son lived in the house now known as the Cummings house on the acclivity across the road from the Bears Den. Samuel built and lived in the house where Mr. Jason Wilbur lived for a long time, the Cromwell house. An expert blacksmith, he had a large shop on the premises.

Clark became a resident of Milford and was engaged in iron working business.
Paul Ellis, jr. lived in a house on the North Road known while it was standing as the George Woods place.
Jesse and David started out on a tour of adventure in the Midwest and found their way to New Orleans and settled there.
John Ellis went to New York State and cleared a tract of land for a farm in the town of Little Valley.
Silas Ellis, born May 31, 1802, learned the trade of carpenter. He was the father of Mr. Warren Ellis late of Morse Village.
Philo M. Ellis attended New Salem Academy in 1826. He traveled, was known in Boston.
James Ellis, born Feb.11, 1810, attended New Salem Academy 1826-1830. He went to Williams College and graduated with high honors. He died in Williamstown shortly after graduation.
After settling in New Salem the Ellis family consisted of Paul Ellis, his wife and five sons worked the small farm in addition to the business of shoemaking. Scrupulous in the matter of cost accounting he kept accounts in book form. A ledger commended on Jan. 23, 1798 in Royalston is in the possession of Miss Ellen I. Ellis, student NSA 1889-90, great-granddaughter of Paul Ellis. The book has 134 and some loose pages and continued until about the year 1826. The New Salem entries begin in 1800. (The whereabouts of this ledger is now obscure.)
At the time of the death of Paul Ellis, the property was acquired by purchase by Silas Ellis, his seventh son and was remodelled for his home. An addition to the original Cape Cod house, etc. The addition was the handiwork of Silas Ellis, himself a very skillful finish carpenter and decorator. All four rooms had their fireplaces, Holy Cross doors with H & L hinges. The parlor, downstairs northeast room, was furnished in an especially elegant manner and featured built-in bookcases, molding curved and arched to meet the frame of the fireplace and chair rail of fine Colonial design. Also built by Silas Ellis was the Andres' house, at North New Salem just south of the meeting house, for Dr.Robert Andres.
Wishing to own a good farm, and finding the house with its small gardens, not adequate for his needs he sold to ..." The Cummings and Dr. Andres houses still stand 1975.

*8.ii. Walter Hero Ellis was the son of Albert Morse and Mary(Hero)Ellis. He was born in Hammonton, New Jersey on February 14,1869 and he died in Summit, New Jersey, Octo-29,1937 after having suffered a stroke.

Walter married in Camden, N.J., March 26,1890, Mary Margaret Dilks, daughter of Israel and Margaret C.(Bird) Dilks of Elwood, N.J. She was born in Elwood, N.J.September 10,1872. Her father was a carpenter in Elwood and a veteran of the Civil War. She was one of five children, the youngest of whom was six years old when their father died of lung illness contracted during his hardships of service during the Civil War. Her mother, tradition says, supported her five children by the craft of seamstress. It was understood she previously had made uniforms for the Civil War soldiers.

Mary(Dilks)Ellis was just over seventeen at the time of her marriage. She died in Summit, N.J. on February 16, 1955 of pneumonia. She lived with her daughter, Mrs. Milligan, then with two other daughters, Mrs. Jahries and Helen Ellis as well as still later with her son Albert Ellis after the death of Mr. Ellis and the subsequent sale of their home.

The Ellises resided in Hammonton, New Jersey where Mr. Ellis carried on the trade of bicycle salesman for the Pierce-Arrow Company. They removed to Maplewood, N. J. when he conducted, in 1906 until shortly before his death

the state agency for Pierce-Arrow motor cars in Newark, New Jersey.
In 1928, Mr. Ellis was president of the Automobile Trade Association and was at one time president of the Newark N.J. Chamber of Commerce. He was a member of the Newark Downtown Club, the New Jersey Audubon Society and the American Rock Garden Society. The family were members of the Presbyterian Church in Summit and the Baltusrol Golf Club where Mr. Ellis enjoyed an excellent reputation as a golfer, competing in the National Opens.
In 1922, the Ellises moved to Summit, N.J. where their daughter, Elizabeth(Ellis)Milligan and her family had settled. They enjoyed an enviable way of life until the stock market crash of 1929 and the closing of Pierce-Arrow Motor Company.
Mr. Ellis was a methodical man, gentle and kind and highly respected. He carried a small pad in his pocket at his home on which he kept notes as reminders of matters of which he wished to consult with his family. These notes contained repeated "speak to Mary about.." and on his memos, he even kept track of the postage stamps he gave his children. He always wore a boutonniere in his lapel picked fresh from his greenhouse each morning.
Walter Ellis carried on his hobby of growing rare flowers in a greenhouse attached to his garage-stable with the help of his gardener. His gardens were among the show places of Summit and annual tours were conducted for the public to view them. After his retirement, he concentrated all his energies to raising flowers.
The Ellises' Summit house was built of cream brick with a tile roof. The library, with its floor to ceiling bookcases and a fire in the hearth in season, was Mr. Ellis' retreat. The mahogany paneled diningroom easily seated the family holiday celebrations for thirty-five or more children and grandchildren. The cheerful sunroom which held the Christmas tree was where the family gathered to exchange gifts. My favorite room was the large butler's pantry with its silver plated sink and fixtures. Mrs. Ellis had her drawingroom with DuBarry Rose satin brocade hung on the walls and gold tables with glassed cases for tops held her most rare collections. The servants had their own sitting room with a pantry. A separate staircase from the kitchen hallway led to two maids' rooms and bath on their third floor. A huge room with walk-in closets of shelves served the seamstresses for the family. It was a huge, beautiful home and like many of its kind, destined for removal as too large for use as anything but a school.

After Mr. Ellis' death, the house was sold, fixtures,fireplaces,wall hangings,ceilings and furnishings auctioned. Mrs. Ellis had been a knowledgable collector of antiques. The property in Glendola,near Spring Lake,N.J.had been sold several years before. It was called Rose Hill Farm and served as summer residence for the family. As remembered, the house was of frame construction with twelve bedrooms,stables with servants' quarters above,chauffuer's cottage and steamy laundry house with the laundress'house adjoining. Additional acreage opposite the main house held the farmer's cottage,barns and a third small house for the guests. There was a pony and cart for children's rides, horses, and meadows for play. Neither house is standing. The senior Ellises spent their winters in Clearwater,Florida, leaving Miss Harrington, the registered nurse in their employ, in charge of the youngest of their ten children still at home.

Elizabeth(Bess) married in New York City at the Little Church Around the Corner, Robert Sylvester Milligan, M. D., son of John and Agnes(Doran)Milligan, October 31, 1914. He was born in Pittsburgh,Pa. August 19,1886. An only child, his father deserted his small family when Robert was very young. Dr. Milligan was baptized at the Episcopal Church in the Alleghany section of Pittsburgh and, for a year during his childhood, was placed in an orphanage as his mother worked. It may have been called Gusky, in Pittsburgh.
Dr. Milligan attended Mount Hermon School in Massachusetts, Perkiomen School in Pa. and Syracuse University in N.Y. He graduated from Jefferson Medical School and practiced medicine in Summit,N.J. for over fifty years.

After his retirement from private practice, he retained the position of City Physician and became Health Officer in Summit and Springfield,N.J. He retired as Health Officer in 1973. He was the recipient of Golden Deeds awards.
Mrs. Elizabeth and Dr. Milligan resided in Syracuse,N.Y. while he attended Syracuse University, in Philadelphia while he was at Jefferson Medical College and in Jersey City,N.J. when he was employed as health officer inspecting troop ships returned from overseas duty during World War 1. They removed to Summit,N.J. in about 1919.
Both Mrs.and Dr. Milligan were baptized by Rev.Hiley on November 19,1922 at the First Baptist Church, later named Christ Church in Summit,N.J. Their two daughters were also baptized there and their son Robert joined the Calvary Episcopal Church in Summit,N.J.,where he was a boy soprano in the church choir.
Dr. Milligan was president of the John E.Runnells Hospital for nine of the twenty-five years he served on its board. He is former president of the medical staff of Overlook Hospital, Summit,N.J. and a member of the American Medical Association, State Medical Society, Union County Medical Association and Summit Civil Defense Council. He is a member of the Union County Health Officers Association and its past president. In 1959, Dr.Milligan was named Summit's Outstanding Citizen.
June 24,1950 Mrs. Milligan and Robert were divorced and Elizabeth moved to Treasure Island, Florida. Dalton,Mass. was her home before her death of respiratory arrest on December 2,1974, at the age of eighty-two years. Memorial services were held December 8,1974 at Christ Church, Summit,N.J.
As second wife, Dr. Milligan married Mrs.Frances(Ryan) (Connor)Malbon, born in 1907 and died in Summit,N.J.,on June 10,1972. She was the mother of two daughters by two former marriages.

Dilks

oseph Dilks married Rebecca -, both citizens of the U. S.,about 1829. They had Israel Dilks born Bridgeton,Cumberland County, New Jersey between1831-1833. According to Israel Dilks' disability certificate from the Civil War, he was twenty-nine years old on November 26,1862. He was 5'7½" tall, light complexion,blue eyes, and brown hair. He was a carpenter by trade and resided in south Jersey. He served in the Civil War, Co. D.,7th Regt.of N.J. Volunteers, mustered in as corporal August 31,1861 at Trenton,N.J. and received a disability discharge in N.Y., December 8,1862. He was a sergeant at the time of his discharge. He suffered from "phthisis pulmonatis", "spitting blood on the battlefield." His company was commanded by Capt.J.J. Fritchey and while a member of that company and in line of his duty,"retreating in the 7 days of battle on the Penninsula in the state of Virginia on the fourth day of August,1862 he was taken with vomiting blood and pains in the breast and small of the back. He continued with his company as non-commissioned officer was in command." He was treated at Harewood Hospital, Washington, D.C. and at Newark Hospital,N.J., November,1862. He was promoted to Corporal, 5th, 4th and 3rd Sergeant. Israel died December 22,1884, aged 53 years of Phthisis Pulmonalis at Elwood, Atlantic County,N.J. and was buried in Elwood Rural Cemetery.

Israel Dilks married Margaret C. Bird, Saturday, December 4,1858 by Justice of the Peace W. T. Hill,Atlantic County,N.J. Mrs.Dilks received a pension #215 761 of a $30.00 a month as widow. Israel had received pension # 221336 of $30.00 a month, for his disability. She died April 16,1921. She had been living with her son at So. 60th St., Philadelphia,Pa. She was born April 29,1840, Mays Landing, Atlantic County,N.J.

In Margaret C.(Bird)Dilks' application for pension, H. W. Smith,M.D. attested he was in attendance at her second confinement for childbirth. He listed her children as:

Children of Israel & Margaret C.(Bird)Dilks b.Elwood,N.

i. Horatio S. b.9/8/1870
ii. Mary Margaret b.9/10/1872 (m.Camden,N.J.3/26/1890, Walter Hero Ellis 10 chn.)
iii. Charles Z. b.5/8/1876 d.unm.
iv. Rebecca A. b.8/2/1878 m. several chn.
v. George B. b.2/10/1881

*ii. Mary Margaret Dilks was the daughter of Israel and Margaret C. (Bird) Dilks, born in Elwood,N.J.,September 10,1872. She was one of five children who were father - less after her father's death from causes resulting from the rigors of the Civil War. Tradition has that her mother was a seamstress after her widowhood and made uniforms for the soldiers in the Civil War. After the war, Israel was unable to work an entire day and requested a pension on disability.

Mary married in Camden,N.J.,March 26,1890, Walter Hero Ellis, son of Albert Morse and Mary(Hero)Ellis, born in Hammonton,N.J. February 14,1869. They resided in Hammonton, Maplewood, Summit and summered in Glendola,N.J. Ten children were born to them.

Mrs. Mary M.(Dilks)Ellis died at the Palmer Nursing Home in Summit,N.J., February 16,1955 of pneumonia,leaving all ten children.

The Dilks line has only been sketchily traced at this time through N.J. wills from Mary Margaret(Dilks)Ellis to Israel to Joseph, jr., to William to Joseph to James to James Dilks who received an earmark for swine and cattle in the county of Gloucester,N.J. in 1686, as did a George Bird, the probable ancestor of Mrs. Ellis' mother, argaret C. Bird. The Bird family of N.J. is said to have een originally of the family in Hartford, Conn. of Thoms Bird, first known in Hartford, 1644.

tradition in the family is that they are descendants of verardus Bogardus, first Dutch minister in New Amster - am, and his wife Annetka Jans, according to Charles Z. ilks who had traced them. They will be traced again.

In England, John Adams of Barton St.David,Somersetshire, was born between 1500 and 1505. His name appears on the Muster Roll for the tithing of Barton in 1539. He is classed among the "able bylmen fyndyng harnys" and said to have supplied a "bowe". It is assumed, since the Muster Roll contains only the names of twenty-one able - bodied men between sixteen and sixty, who were of suffiient financial ability to provide them, that John was na servant or laborer. The tax rolls for Barton David in 1542 and 1543 list Robert Adams and Alys Adams, widow, owing taxable property in the shape of "goods", establishing that the family was not freeholder of the manor but copyholders. Alys was evidentally the widow of John and the start of our branch. The Adamses were sturdy yeomen living in Barton David for generations.

John and Alys' son Henry was born about 1531 in Barton
David during the reformation of the church under Henry Vlll. Henry Adams died in England and it is not known to whom he was married.
Henry Adams had a son John born at Barton David, Somersetshire, England who married Agnes -. Of this union was born Henry about 1583 at Barton David, Somersetshire, England. He removed to Kingweston, in the same county befor-1622. He was appointed executor of his father's will dated March 19,1603-4 and of his brother's will. Henry helland as a farmer from the Lord of the Manor of Barton David.
Edith Squire married Henry Adams on October 19,1609. She was the daughter of Henry Squire of the adjoining parish of Charlton Mackrell. She was baptized May 29,1582 at Charlton Mackrell. Edith remarried after Henry's death, John Fussell of Weymouth, Mass. who was originally from Charlton Mackrell.
Henry Adams, probably for religious reasons, abandoned England and settled in New England. He sailed with his family about 1638. He was a farmer and a malster. Pres.
John Adams 1735-1826 claimed his great-great-grandfather Henry Adams "took flight from the dragon of persecution in England." No record of action against Henry has ever been found. Jonathan was the only son of eight sons and one daughter to come with the family to Massachusetts.
On February 24,1639-40, Henry was granted a lot by the town of Boston. He died in Braintree, later named Quincy, at about sixty-three years of age.
The text of Henry Adams' will is as follows: "First,my will is, that my sonns Peter and John and my daughter Vrsula shall have the ground in the Neck, both vpland and meddow, during the terme I was to enjoy it,untill it returne into the townes hands againe from whom I had it. Also the Aker in the mill fields. My will is that my bookes shall be divided amongst all my Children;that my wife shall have and Enjoy all my other Goods,so Longe as shee liveth vnmarried. And if she marry, then my will is yt Josephe, Edward and my daughter Vrsula should enjoy all my ground in the field that lyeth in the way to Waymouth ferry, and my house Lott, with all the houses and fruit trees, and all my moveables, at the death or marriage of my wife ; Provided, they and their mother shall pay to my sonne Samuel that wch is due him for the ground I bought of him,to be payd in Convenient time. But in case God should soe deal my wife that shee be con - strayned to make vse of something by way of sale,shee may. Finally, for moveables,my will is,that my sonne Peter and John shall have an equall share with my sons Joseph and Edward and my daughter Vrsula." An inventory of the es - tate may be found in Suffolk Co. Probate Records,p. 429, New Series, Vol.1.

Pres. John Adams, in memory of his ancestor Henry Adams, had a monument erected in the Old Burying Ground at Quincy. The following inscription is on this monument: "In memory of Henry Adams,who took his flight from the dragon,persecution,in Devonshire,and alighted with eight sons, near Mount Wolloston. One of the sons returned to England; and, after taking time to explore the country, four removed to Medfield, one of the neighboring towns; two to Chelmsford,one only,Joseph,who lies here at his left hand, remained here, who was the original proprietor of the Township of Braintree, incorporated 1639." Henry is said to have come to New England from Devonshire probably the point of embarkation in 1632. Edith, wife of Henry, married in 1651, after his death, John Fussell who had bought a house from Richard Sylvester in 1640 in Weymouth and whose family name appears in records in Charlton Mackrell, Somersetshire in the 16th and 17th centuries. Henry was a freeman, May 3,1654. He died October 6, 1646 at Braintree.

Bowker

Mary Bowker was the third wife of our ancestor Thomas Holbrook and not our ancestor. She was the daughter of Edward and Margarett Bowker,born in Sudbury,April 15, 1665. Her mother, Margarett Bowker,called in the old records "daughter of a Swede", married,after Mary's father's death, January 26,1668, our ancestor Thomas Holbrook, the first, as his third wife. She died,April 9, 1690. Neither Margarett nor Mary is our ancestor.

Breck

The name Breck or Brick as it was sometimes spelled, has an ancient history in Lancashire, England. Almost all of the families in America who bear the name are descended from one ancestor who lived in England in 1600 and died there in 1630. This man had six sons,all of whom came to America. His given name is not known.
The coat of arms of the Brecks of Lancashire, England: Gules,a chief parted per bend sinister indented, or an argent and on a second and on a third four Torteuxes of the first. Their crest was:A dexter arm issuing out of a wreath erect holding a sword proper.
The children of the English ancestor who all came to America are listed below. They probably all were born in Lancashire, Lancaster County, England.

Bullard

The origin of the Bullard name is said by Mrs.Temperence Bullard of Morristown,N.J.:"One called a Lard, in ancient times, when on a royal hunting excursion,outstripped his company in chase of a wild bull,and killed him. Ever after this feat was called the great Bull Lard. Hence his descendants were named Bullard."
There is a tradition among the Bullards that eight brothers of that name came to New England about the same time. The brothers were, Robert,Benjamin,Jonathan,William,John,Isaac,Nathaniel and George. Of these brothers three were early planters of Watertown. Benjamin removed to Sherborn and George removed to Weston. Robert was buried in April 24,1639,according to Watertown records. We are concerned with Robert and John Bullard,our ancestor.
The four sons of widow Grace Bullard, William, Robert, John and George were no longer in the English records from about the time these men appeared in New England. They came to America about 1635 when the emigrants of Dedham and Watertown came in the migration.
The Bullards have a handsome coat of arms and crest.

The four brothers were rated the more prosperous citizens of their time. Private accounts against John Bullard abroad, for instance, were entered as "one of the two Bullards of Dedham." The character of the brothers was sufficient to exclude them from the pledge in the act of incorporation of Medfield, "to build within a specified time, a meeting house, settle a minister,and establish a school." John and William were first proprietors of Dedham.

William Bullard, brother of Robert,John and George, was born in England about 1594. He was admitted a freeman of Dedham, May 13,1640 and with his brother John, accepted by the town "to have part of those lands formerly granted Edward Alleyn" on July 6,1638. He and his wife were admitted to the church in Dedham,December 13,1639. After she died, he married as second wife, Mary Griswold widow of Francis Griswold of Charlestown. In his will, July 5,1679, he is said to be 85 years and mentions two daughters and two sons. He died in Dedham on December 23,1686 aged 92 years,at the home of his daughter,widow of Farrington. William resided in Dedham and had four children born in England.

*5.vi. Robert Bullard was born in Barnham, St. Martin, Suffolk County, England about 1599. He was church warden in Watertown where he arrived about 1635. He died, Watertown, April 24,1639 aged 40 years, leaving a widow Ann or Anna. She remarried Henry Thorpe and cared for her son Benjamin as well as daughters Ann and Maudalin. Robert Bullard was a freeman and after his wife's remarriage, she gave bonds to Thorpe that he would not alienate any of the estate then in her possession and consented to a deed that she had made to her son Benjamin and his sisters. It is believed that her son Benjamin had as his guardian, his uncle William Bullard of Dedham as the above mentioned bond was witnessed by him.

*6. i. Benjamin Bullard was the son of Robert and Ann Bullard,born in England between 1630 and 1634. He was a freeman,January 1,1655-6 and died in Sherborn,September 27,1689. Benjamin was among those who signed the first petition for the incorporation of Sherborn. His father having died when Benjamin was a young boy, he went to Dedham to live with one or both his uncles. William Bullard of Dedham was probably his guardian as the bond given by his mother to insure passage of his father's estate to him and his sisters was given and it was testified by that uncle.

Benjamin married first at Dedham, April 5,1659, Martha Ridge, daughter of Thomas and Mary Ridge. This name was also spelled Pidge or Pigge. She was born,January 12,1642 and died before 1677. She was from Roxbury but later her parents moved to Dedham where the children were married. Benjamin married as second wife, Elizabeth Thorpe,daughter of Henry Thorpe and his first wife. His mother had married Henry Thorpe as his second wife. Benjamin and his family resided in Sherborn where their ten children were born.

*9.iii. Mary Bullard, daughter of Seth and Sarah(Twitchell)Bullard was born in Holliston,January4,1745 and died in Hopkinton, April 11,1781.
Mary married Samuel Claflin in Hopkinton, according to the marriage intentions published,August 23,1765. Samuel was born in Hopkinton, June 7,1743 and died there February 3,1782. He was the son of Caleb and Mary(Jeffords)(Tilton)Claflin. Samuel was a member of the Hopkinton Company of Minutemen who responded to the Lexington Alarm,April 19,1775. He served during the Revolutionary War. He resigned because of illness and died less than three years later. In the records, Mary is called "Mary Bullard of Framingham." They resided in Hopkinton where they had five children, including Rufus Claflin who married, November 5,1789,Hepzibah Bolster.

*5.vii. John Bullard was the son of William and Grace (Bignett)Bullard, born about 1601-2 at Barnham,St.Martin, Suffolk County,England. He died in Medfield, October 27,1678. His accidental death was the result of "the overthrow of a cart." He took the freeman's oath May 13,1640. He resided first in Watertown, 1636 where he was a proprietor in 1638 and admitted to the Watertown church, May 2,1639. They removed to Dedham when the company of the Watertown church people established themselves there. His dismissal from the Watertown church to one in Dedham was in May 30,1641, "Mr. Phillips,the pastor, and Elders Carter and Howe testifying in his favor."
John was one of the original purchasers of Dedham,having signed the social compact of proprietors, June 1, 1636. The lands assigned to him adjoined those of his brother William. In 1650, John became one of the select proprietors of the new town of Medfield where lands assigned to him and other proprietors during its first settlement were. He enjoyed so great a degree of confidence of the General Court, he and his brother William were not bound, in the act of incorporation of the town "to build within a specified time, a meeting house,settle a minister,and establish a school." Their characters were sufficient pledge that these things would be done.

John received a house lot of eight acres in Medfield, in 1652. In 1675, he is on the list of subscribers to the fund for "the new brick college" which was Harvard. His contribution was a bushel and a half of "Indian corn." In John's will, his son Joseph was given the homestead and legacies were to be paid to his son-in-law, John Partridge and his two daughters, Abigail Stockwell and Hannah Allen, wife of Benjamin Allen.
John Bullard married Magdalene George in England. She died in Medfield, November 29,1661. He married a second wife, Ellen Dickerman, widow of Thomas Dickerman of Dorchester. She died in 1676.

Cheney

is assumed that John and William Cheney, progenitors the American descendants, were brothers as both came om England to Roxbury. In Waltham Abbey, Essex, Eng-nd, Robert Cheney made his will October 1,1567,men-oning his wife Joan and sons John,Raufe,William and bert. He also mentioned a daughter Agnes. His son John d a son William who was born in 1584. Many of the im-grants of Roxbury came from Essex County, England where ere were a large number of Englishmen of the name Chen-y. John and William Cheney may have been the sons of hn and Alice Cheney of Bennington,Lincolnshire,England.
hn Cheney, our immigrant ancestor was born in England.
came to New England in 1636,according to John Eliot, inister of Roxbury church, with his wife Mary and their ur children, Mary, Martha, John and Daniel. A fifth ild was born in 1636. John left Roxbury at the end of e summer of 1636 for Newbury where he amassed consid-rable wealth. He was granted three acres of land June 9,1638 and in August of that year, six acres of salt arsh. On July 5,1639 twenty more acres were assigned o him. He received a home lot on January 10,1643.
ohn was prominent in the town's affairs in Newbury.He as a selectman and member of the grand jury, April 27, icult journey on foot from Newbury to Cambridge to take

he freeman's oath on May 17,1637, in support of Gov.
inthrop in his campaign against Sir Harry Vane.
ohn Cheney wrote his will, May 4,1666 and he died July 8,1666. This will was written in his own hand, provid-ng generously for his wife and family. It was proved, eptember 25,1666. Not many of our first settlers were ble to write fluently though most could write their names.
ohn Cheney married Martha - in England. They had ten

Second Cheney

The name Cheney was variously spelled as Cheyney,Chaney, Cheany and Chany as well as the accepted Cheney. It was probably derived from the parish name of Chenay in the department Somme et Loire from some obscure word Chenaie in Normandy or even from old French Chesneia meaning oak grove or chene meaning oak. It was one of the earliest surnames in England.
The names of Henry and Sir Nicholas de Cheney were in the Hundred Rolls of Cambridge A.D.1273. During the reign of Henry lll (1207-1272), Sir Nicholas acquired the name of

Up-Ottery in Devonshire. One of the name, Thomas Cheney, mercer, is recorded to have died in England, 1361. The will of Henry Cheney,London was written August 18,1361. John Cheney of Exeter was archdeacon in 1379.

*1. William Cheney was born about 1604, England and emigrated from there with his wife and children. He was a land holder and resident of Roxbury in deeds of 1640.He is assumed to have been the brother of John Cheney. He was a signer to the subscription to found the Roxbury Free School in 1645 and a director of the school. In 1648 he was an assessor. He died June 30,1667.
William Cheney married in England,Margaret Mason who remarried after his death, a man named Burge or Burgess. She was buried beside William Cheney, July 3,1686. They had seven children.

Claflin

The name Claflin was originally Mackclothlan, Maclachla mackclaflin and Macclaflin with or without the capital. Robert was a Scot who fought the Battle of Dunbar, 1650 captured and sold into indenture to the Saugus Iron Wor He was the progenitor of the Claflins in America. He,li the other prisoners, was sold for a short period of tim as a servant to the colonists. It was a fairly common pr tice at the time. Mackclothlan was admitted a townsman Wenham, November 4,1661. In 1669,he was granted land. H was elected highway surveyor of Wenham and in 1673, he sold his home, and farm to the town for a parsonage. In exchange he took 15 acres of land and in this deed he listed his occupation as husbandman. The house he built in Wenham is still standing, in excellent condition.It i opened to the public and an attached museum, housing the Wenham Historical Society, holds many items of the period. The old well near the house still furnished a supply of water. The place was owned by the Richards family for many years and is now known as the Claflin-Richards House. It is claimed to have been built in 1660 and is protected by the Claflin Family Association.

Robert Claflin married, October 4,1664, Joanna Warner, daughter of John Warner of Ipswich and Brookfield. Robert died prior to September 19,1690 when an inventory of his estate was filed by the administrator,Thomas Fiske. The receipts of his children for their share of the estate show that the Mac or Mack,meaning son,was dropped early. The Claflins of Holliston and Milford were owners and craftsmen in the shoe industries of those towns. Ernest Bragg writes and account of the Claflins in his Origin of the Shoe Industry in Holliston and Milford. These include Aaron,his father John,jr.,Charles the son of Aaron and Luther. William Claflin,Governor of Massachusetts 1869,1870, and 1871 was the son of Lee Claflin, son of Ebenezer who was the son of Robert Claflin. Lee Claflin was of Hopkinton, born November 19,1791 and set up a foot and shoe industry as well as a tannery about 1819 with William Bailey. He rose to wealth and distinction .

Adin Ballou,in his History of Milford,Mass. writes:"The Claflins have been more or less prominent in Milford for over eighty years. They came directly or indirectly from Hopkinton. They are said to be of Scotch extraction, and their ancestors may have been among the Scotch immigrants who helped settle Hopkinton at an early period." Untrue.

Robert Claflin married Joanna Warner on October 14,1664. She was the daughter of John and Priscilla(Symonds)Warner, born about 1642 in Ipswich and died before September 19,1690. They resided in Wenham.

Cook

Cook is one of the oldest English names. It is derived from the vocation of some progenitor of the 11th or 12th centuries. More than a dozen with this surname settled in Mass.Bay and Plymouth colonies before 1650.

t is thought that Walter and Gregory Cook were brothers. regory,our ancestor,was a cordwainer of Cambridge about 665. A cordwainer was a shoemaker. Both men were born in ngland in the early part of the seventeenth century. Walter settled in Weymouth in 1643 and was admitted freeman, ay 18,1653. Both were early proprietors of Mendon. Walter as one of the original proprietors and he and his family ecame large property owners in Mendon. They were driven rom their homes along with the other inhabitants of Mendon during the hostilities of King Philip's War,returning fter the fighting was over. Walter died in Mendon,January 5,1695-6 and his widow whose name was Catherine,died hree days later. They had five children,one of whom married Naomi Thayer,daughter of Ferdinando Thayer.

regory Cook was a selectman of Mendon,1669 and owned 112 cres of farmland,partly in Newton and partly in Water - own. He was married twice.

s first wife, Gregory married Mary - who died August 17, 681. He married second,November 1,1681,Widow Susanna oodwin. Her daughter by her first husband married first, ohn Morse,jr.,January 8,1689-90 and second,September 15, 691, Henry Spring. The Gregory Cooks lived in Watertown ambridge and Mendon. Daniels

Robert Daniell,immigrant ancestor, was of Watertown and Cambridge, born in England, 1590, coming to Watertown before 1636 when he was recorded as a landed proprietor. He was a yeoman or husbandman. March 14,1639, he was admitted a freeman of Watertown. He was granted 5 lots and he purchased the "homestall" of Nicholas Jacobs,of 13 acres. Robert Daniell married first, Elizabeth - who died October 2,1643. He married, May 2,1654, Rena Andrews, widow of William Andrews. He bequeathed the estate she brought to him by her former marriage and other property to her in his will dated, July 3,1655. After his death,July 6, Rena(Andrews)Daniell married Edmund Frost.
Robert had a brother William of Dorchester, 1648 and a brother Joseph, Medfield, in 1649. Most of the latter's descendants spelled the name Daniell but the Medway part of the family spelled the name Daniels.

Edson

The English ancestry of Deacon Samuel Edson starts with Thomas Edson who lived in Adderbury,Oxfordshire,England. This is the earliest known Edson and the name is not a common one in England. Thomas was born in Adderbury about 1480 and married Juliana Bustard,daughter of John and Elizabeth(Fox)Bustard. Thomas was a farmer,living on a small farm in Adderbury. It is thought Thomas Alva Edison must have been a descendant of Thomas as the Edsons removed to Nova Scotia after the American Revolution and Thomas A. Edison's ancestors came from there. Samuel Edison, grandfather of Thomas Alva Edison was a loyalist.

Fairbanks

The Fairbanks name in England and Americahas various spellings. It was spelled Fairebanke,Fairbank,ffayerbanke and in Jonathan's will,both ffarbanke and ffarebanks are noted.

Nearly all of the name in America trace their ancestry to Jonathan of Sowerby,West Riding,Yorkshire,England. E- ven those of us who do not bear the surname of Fairbanks can take pride that our lineage comes through a mother bearing the name.

The name Fairbanks in England is an old one. In America, there have been many of the name to have achieved distin- guished careers. One Fairbanks was Vice-President during Theodore Roosevelt's administration. Erastus and Thaddeus Fairbanks were inventors of the platform scale and of the iron moldboard plan. Avard T. Fairbanks was a sculptor of note and Calvin Fairbanks smuggled 47 slaves to freedom.

The English ancestry of our ancestor Jonathan Fairbanks has been traced with care by Clarence Almon Torrey,F.A. S.G.of Boston, 1961. In 1971,LeMar Fairbanks of Utah was responsible for reprinting the Genealogy of the Fairbanks Family by Lorenzo Sayles Fairbanks, 1897.

Jonathan Fairbanks built the Fairbanks House in Dedham in 1636. It is acknowledged as being the oldest frame house in America still standing and is open to the pub - lic. In 1892 Rebecca Fairbanks moved from the house af- ter it was struck by lightning in July but she returned to occupy it until the Fairbanks Association took it o- ver. It is entirely supported by the family and funds received from the public viewing during the spring and summer months.

Jonathan brought the huge oak timbers and fine fireplace bricks for his home with him from England,using them as ballast for the ship which carried him here. The tiny diamond shaped window panes were also brought with him. He was not a carpenter or mason but his home shows the workmanship only a ship's carpenter would have been capable of building.

Jonathan Fairbanks is descended from the English Fairebanke of Halifax and Heptonstall, Yorkshire as follows:

*1. i. William Fairebanke b.1455 d.1518 "1492,8th Henry vll William Fairebanke took land of the soil and waste of the lord,in Sourby to hold according to the custom of the manor." "May 18,1498 13th Henry Vll,William Fairebank,a tenant,surrendered a close called Wynlufroide in Warley into the hands of the lord." William had land recorded in 1492 in the Manor Rolls called "Brigbottom"which in 1507 was conveyed to his son Gilbert Fairebanke. Another record appears "1514,6th Henry Vlll Johannis Haldeworth et Willelmus Fairebanke electi sunt ad officium prepositi."

*2.ii. John Fairbank,son of William,b. abt.1480 d.1551 "1504,19th Henry Vll. Edmund Fairebanke surrendered one rood of land with the buildings thereon, lately taken from the waste in Soureby,to the use of John Fairebanke, son of William Fairebanke,and the heirs of his body lawfully begotten." "1506, 22nd Henry Vll. William surrendered all his estate and term of years not yet elapsed which he held in 17a.of Pigilcroft in Soarbie to the use of John Faerbaink,son of said William and his assigns during the term." "1524,John Fairebanke,one of the feofees of the will of John Wodde."

*3.iii. Gilbert Fairebanke,son of John b.abt.1505 d.3/13 /1577-8 "1526 19th Henry Vlll. John Fairebanke surrendered Brigbotham &c to the use of Gilbert Fairebanke,s.of the aforesaid John Fairebanke and the heirs of his body lawfully begotten,rendering therefor yearly 48 s.9 d." and "1550,5th Edward Vl. John Fairebanke and Gilbert Fairebanke,son and heir of said John,surrendered one messuage,one garden and the moiety of one barn,and one croft called Laithecroft,and two closes of land and meadow called Overholme and Netherholme to" &c. "1569,11th Elizabeth,Gilbert Fairebank would not pay the stipend of the minister or curate of the Chapel." "Fined 12 d."

Gilbert made his will on his deathbed and was buried the same day, March 4,1577-8. He married Jennet - who died and was buried January 16,1578-9.

*5. i. Jonathan Fairebanke came from Sowerby,West Ridin Yorkshire, England to Boston 1633 on the Susan and Elle with his wife Grace, their sons and two daughters. The son of George & Mary(Farrer)Fairbanke, he was born abou 1595. They resided in Boston for three years before set- ling in Dedham, 1636. The house he built in Dedham 163 is the oldest frame house still standing in New England It has been owned and occupied, without encumbrances up it, by his lineal descendants. The estate was occupied by Rebecca Fairbanks in 1892 when she left it after it was struck by lightning but she soon returned. Jonathan is thought to have brought the heavy oak beams,solid bricks and diamond shaped window glass from England. Jonathan married Grace Smith in England. Two dates are given for her death, October 28,1673 and March 19,1676. Jonathan and three of his sons signed the Dedham Coven- ant in "loth of ye 7 moneth,1636" along with 121 other early settlers. He joined the Dedham church,June 14,164 and he was admitted a freeman,March 22,1637-8. He died in Dedham, December 5,1668 and his will was executed on June 4,1668

.ii. George Fairbanks,son of Jonathan and Grace(Smith) irbanks was born in England and died by drowning Janu- y 10,1682. He resided in Dedham until about 1657 when removed to Medfield,now called Medway where he was a rst settler. He bought land near the Sherborn line that d originally been granted Rev.John Allen. The home he ilt was in the family for several generations,held in rt by four Georges in succession,then by Silas and his n Silas who was the last of the name to live in it,at out 1820. The house,originally a garrison house,was ilt by the residents of the farms of Sherborn and Medeld as a place they could go to seek refuge during Inan attacks. George was a member of the Ancient & Honable Artillery Co.of Mass. in 1644. In 1662 George sigd the first petition for the incorporation of Sherborn th 13 of his neighbors. As it was unsuccessful,he and elve others signed a second petition in 1674. This was s successful so the petitioners and twenty more men re,by an act of the General Court,proprietors of lands at then comprised Sherborn,Holliston and large districts f Framingham and Ashland. He was a selectman for four ears,on a committee to select and settle a minister. His dden death by drowning in 1682 was a great loss to the w settlement.

om the fact that George was able to bring his family to New England from England,support them in Boston until he found a suitable location for a home,leads us to assume he had ample funds for his needs. His home was more pretentious than those of his neighbors and it lasted for eight generations. He engaged in buying land soon after his settlement in Sherborn,clearing forests and also he built roads. He left a large estate at the time of his death.

George Fairbanks married August 26,1646,Mary Adams of Dedham,born presumably,in England. She died August 11, 1711 in Mendon,probably at her daughter and son-in-law's home,William and Margaret Holbrook.

Fisher

The English ancestor of those who came in 1637 of the name of Fisher was Anthony. The English coat of arms appears to be the same for the Dauphin of France as for Fisher. The name is found in every country since it is one of common employment. In French it is Pecheur and in Germany it is Fischer.

The Fisher arms are: Argent,an arrow proper,the point in base passing through the crown or.:between 2 fishes proper palewise. Their crest: A fish issuant proper between two wings conjoined argent.
The first Anthony Fisher married Mary - and was of Syleham, Suffolk County, England. Theirs was the freehold estate called Wignotte.

Fiske

The name of Fiske or Fisk has an ancient line in England. In May,1208, the Duke of Lorraine granted land in Digneceton Park to the men of Laxfield. Daniel Fisk was among the grantees. In the reign of Queen Mary, some of the name suffered persecution of the Protestants.
The early immigrants bearing the name of Fisk,Ffisk and Fiske were probably descended from Robert and Sibil(Gold) Fiske of Broad Gates,Loxfield,County Suffolk,England. Robert was descended from Simon Fiske,lord of the manor of Stradhaugh, Loxfield who bore arms.

Goble

Thomas Goble was an inhabitant of Charlestown in 1634. He removed to Concord. Two of his children were probably born in England. One of his sons,John was 25 years old in 1654 and Thomas was 20 that year and 37 in 1668.
Thomas was granted 4 acres of planting ground,1634,on the Newton town line. In 1638 he owned 5 lots,a house with ½ acre,4 acres in Linefield,nearly 3 acres commons,15 acres woodland and fifty more acres. His will, dated September 30,1657, was probated December 29,1657.
Thomas Goble married Alice Monsall who was admitted to the church in Charlestown,June 30,1634. She died in 1657 in Concord. She was probably born in England.

Goodnow

The name Goodnow was written Goodenough,Goodenow,or Goodnow. Edmund or Edmond came with his wife, two sons under four years and a servant named Richard Sanger, aged nineteen, on the ship Confidence of London,John Jobson, Master with one hundred and ten passengers "great and little" that sailed from Southampton,England April 11,1638. These were the original settlers of Sudbury,off from the common land known as The New Plantation by Concord. They had established both a church and a town government by September 4,1639. The committee appointed by the General Court of Mass.Colony to purchase land from the Indians consisted of John Goodenow,John Bingham,Capt. Edmon Goodenow,Lt.Jonah Haynes and Joseph Freeman. On the same ship were John Goodenow of Semley,Wiltshire and his brother Thomas of Shasbury. They were both undoubtedly brothers of Edmund Goodenow.

Edmond was a yeoman,an original proprietor of Sudbury and he took the freeman's oath May 13,1640. He,in 1648 along with William Brown, was to direct the building of a pound to protect the fields and gardens of the settlers from their neighbors' stray cattle. He was taxed for 24 acres of land and received an additional six acres of upland and five acres of meadowland for his services as deputy to the general court of the colony. His son was employed every Election Day to beat the drum and twice every afternoon as well as forenoon of the Lord's Day to give notice of church services. For this service, Edmond received 20 s. annually. In 1654,Edmond Goodnow with Thomas Noyes and William Kerley were appointed by the general court as commissioners to lay out a new highway towards Lancaster through Sudbury. He was a selectman of Sudbury in 1641, a deputy in 1645 and 1650 to the general court of Mass.Bay Colony and a commissioner to try to determine small matters of dispute between people,1661. Edmond Goodnow was a leader in the militia company and a lieutenant of the train band. During the absence of Capt. Pelham in England,he was in command of the bands. He removed to Marlborough which,through the efforts of the inhabitants of Sudbury, was organized as a town May 31, 1660. He died April 5,1688 and was buried in the Sudbury burying ground next to his wife Anne who had died May 9, 1675. It was probably he who built the Goodnow Garrison for protection during King Philip's War.

Edmond married Anne - in England. She died at the age of 67. They had two children born in England and five born in Sudbury.

At the age of one year, he accompanied his parents and brother to Sudbury on the Confidence of London, April 1638,which would have made him 3 years old. He was a citizen of Sudbury until he was 38 years old when he was made a freeman and could take part in the town's government. He was a freeman and a farmer in 1673. He, with Peter King,Thomas Reed,sr.and Jonathan Smith,March 26,1677,was granted permission to build a saw mill on Upper Hop Brook above Peter Noyes' corn mill,at a place viewed by the committee of the town. They were required to have 20 tons of timber and earth for dams.
John Goodnow married,September 19,1656, Mary Axdell, the daughter of Thomas and Mary Axdell(Axtell). Her mother, after her father's death, remarried, John Maynard. Mary died April 14,1704.

It is said that a man named Goodrich married the Duke of Marlboro's sister and had two sons by her. The sons,John for the Duke and William were brought to New England after their father's death, by their uncle, their father's brother. Not long after the voyage, the Duke became childless and sent for John to become heir to his estates. It is said, John died on the return voyage and the uncle purchased a farm in Wethersfield,Conn.for William about the year 1640. If this were so, John would not appear in Wethersfield,Conn. nor would there be a record of his having died there in 1680.

The name Goodrich was spelled Gutterig,Gutteridge,Gudderidge,Gouteridge,Goodridge and Goodrich. The latter two have English backgrounds and they have different coats-of-arms. Also found in heraldry works are the spellings Goodricke and Goodrick. The coats-of-arms of Goodridge and Goodricke are similar,however and probably the families are of the same origin. Thomas Goodrich was the Bishop of Ely and Lord Chancellor of England during the reigns of Henry V111 and Edward 1V. He was made a fellow of Jesus College in 1510 and a university proctor,1515.

John Goodrich was born in England near Bury St.Edmonds, Suffolk County. He came to America before November 10, 1643 when the name first appears on the Coll.Rec.of Conn. (Hartford). He is on the list of jurymen of December 4, 1645 as well as March 4,1646 and September 7,1648. In 1644 he held lands in Wethersfield,Conn.and died there April,1680.

John married first, Elizabeth Edwards, daughter of Thomas Edwards in 1645. After her death in childbirth, July 5,1670, he married, April,1674,Mary(Foote)Stoddard,daughter of Nathaniel and Elizabeth(Deming)Foote, widow of John Stoddard. She remarried,after the death of John,Lt. Thomas Tracy of Norwich,Conn. All these names are prominent ones in Pittsfield where they were early settlers. Elizabeth(Edwards)Goodrich died July 5,1670.

Harding

There are fifteen distinct coats-of-arms for the name of Hardin or Harding in England. The coat-of-arms probably belonging to the ancestors of this family was conferred by Henry lll in 1265. It was: Arg.(silver)on a bend;azure,three martlets,gold. Their crest was:a falcon,displayed proper.
The surname Harding is derived from the very ancient name of Hardin and is of Gothic origin. It was in use in a very early era in Germany,Britain and Scandinavia,even before the feudal system. In Domesday Book(1086)there are several men mentioned as using this name. There were six immigrants of the name in Massachusetts before 1650. Three were brothers and it is one of these who concerns us.
It is said that the English brothers William and John Harding were descended from Fitz(son)Harding. William was the father of Mary Harding who married Capt.Robert Gorges,son of Sir Ferdinando Gorges,military governor of Plymouth and greatly interested in the settlement of New England. Capt.Robert and Mary Gorges came to Weymouth in 1623,probably with the thought of settling here. He had received three hundred miles of land in Massachusetts from the king. He returned to England after a short stay and died soon after.
John Harding was born in 1567 and his will was dated 1636 in Northampton, England. It was filed March 3,1637 and he died, January 14,1637. His wife's name is not known.

*2.iii. John Harding, son of John Harding was born in England and died in Weymouth, 1650. In The Hardings of America 1925,Wilbur J.Harding states John came with his two brothers to N.E. with Gov.Robert Gorges' group, August, 1623.

John Harding married Agnes Greene of Tarling,England. She and their two sons,John and Abraham came with him to Weymouth. He married second, Mary - who died,1656. Administration of his estate was granted his sons John and Abraham, October 8,1650. In his will,the care of his widow Mary was given his sons "so long as she was permitted to live." She was granted use of a portion of his town lots and all his personal property. After her death, the estate was to be divided equally between the two sons who were to provide a "dowery of 25 pounds to each of the daughters, Sarah and Mary when they are wed."

They resided in Weymouth but removed to Gloucester before 1635 when he sold land there to Frances Jones for 4 pou In 1636 he purchased a meadow of 9 acres from Abadiah a Susan Mason;in 1637 he was a selectman. They returned Weymouth in 1640 when he took the freeman's oath, May 1 1640. He also drew land in Braintree.

According to legend, he came with his parents in 1623 to Weymouth with Gov.Robert Gorges' group. He was a glover. There is a record of an Abraham and a Robert Harding on the Frances in 1635.

Abraham married Elizabeth Adams, said to be the sister of Henry Adams. However, Adams was a common name in England and it is doubtful she was his sister. She died in 1678. She married, after Abraham's death, December 25,1656,John Frary,jr.who died March 28,1669-70. They settled on the Harding homestead, Medfield,giving bonds to pay the Harding heirs their portion of the property. *6.ii. Sarah Harding, daughter of Isaac and Rachel(Hill) Harding was born in Medway,June 12,1734 and died there on March 31,1788.
Sarah married, May 17,1759,Timothy Ellis, son of Timothy and Hannah(Adams)Ellis, born June 4,1735 and died January 29,1798,possibly as his second wife. They resided in Medway. They had four children including Paul Ellis. If Sarah was Timothy's first wife, their first child was born five months before their marriage. The Town Clerk of Medway sent photostatic copies of the pages containing both the birth and the marriage. In Ballou's History of Milford,Paul's birth is given as October 20,1761 and his second wife ,Rebecca's birth, March 6,1761. Paul's first wife was born October 22,1761 and probably was confused by the family's records one hundred years later. His widow Rebecca, in her claim for a widow's pension states he was a native of Medway, served in the Revolutionary War and practically, he must have been born in 1758 to have been eligible to serve in the army. It is entirely possible that Timothy Ellis, a soldier in the French and Indian Wars may have been married to an earlier Sarah whose death has not been found.

Hayden

The name Hayden was derived from the town of Heydon,Norfolk County, England where they were first seated. It is also derived from Haydon parishes in counties Essex and Dorsetshire. There is a chapelry of the name in Warden Parish, County Northumberland. The name is an ancient one and is listed in most early records and archives. The family appears as early as the Norman Conquest and comes to prominence in the early thirteenth century through Thomas de Heydon, clerk,1203, resident at Heydon and justice itinerant in Norfolk in 1221. He had to do with lands in Heydon and London. The principal branch remained in Norfolk where the eldest sons inherited the estates in Heydon, Baconsthorp and elsewhere. A John de Hayden settled in Devonshire about 1273. The Hundred Rolls(1273)contain the names of Richard de Haydon of Yorkshire, John de Heydon of Somersetshire and Agnes de Haydone of Oxfordshire. The Hayden-Haydon arms are: Quarterly,argent and gules, a cross engrailed counter-changed. There was a crest: a talbot argent spotted sable.

The name Hayden has been variously spelled in America as Heiden,Hoiden,Haden,Haydon,Heydon,Heyden and Hayden. The following is the line of descent in England:

Hayward

he name Hayward is undoubtedly derived from the occupaion of the hay-ward or the hedge-watcher who kept the erds of the village from wandering. In the year 1273,the ame Adam de Hayward is listed in the Hundred Rolls of ounty Devon. Robertus Hayward is on the list of the men n the Poll Tax of Yorkshire, 1379.

illiam Hayward was the emigrant ancestor of the American aywards. He was connected in some way with Thomas Hayard of Duxbury and Bridgewater. Thomas was from Aylesord in England.

he name has been spelled as Hawared,Haywood,Heywood,Hayard and Haiward. It is an English name though it may have riginated in England with the conquest of the Danes. here are two family traditions as to William's origin. ne states that the ancestors came from Denmark and seted in England while the other states they settled in reland after leaving Denmark. Another favored tradition s that they were forced aboard ship and brought to Aerica where they were bound to a farmer to pay their assage. None of these stories has been authenticated. he arms were: Argent, bull's head gules betw. 3 mullets able.

illiam Hayward was of Charlestown in 1637. He was of age nd a proprietor that year. He resided in Braintree where e was a deputy to the court in 1641. He was born about 614 and died by drowning in Braintree, May 10,1659 at he age of forty-five.

illiam married Margery Knight, born in England and died n Braintree, July 18,1676.

Hero

The name Hero is identified in vital records and other sources as a derivation of Harod,Herod,Herrod,Harrude, Harwood and Haywood. Since most of these names have their origin in Hereward,it is assumed Hero is a derivation of Hereward. Early in the 1600's the name Harrod appears in counties Buck and Berks, in England. Later, it appears in Bedford.
These families are descended from Robertus Hereward. The family's arms vary slightly. The Berks branch has the bearings gules,in place of the sable. Both used eagles and stags' heads before the reigns of Charles 1 and 11. Harrods in America were said to have been Baptists and to have been members of that family still living in England who belong to that church. The name has been found in Leighton Bussard, County Bedford, England.
Adin Ballou wrote in his History of Milford,Mass.that there was a tradition that John Hero of Milford was an Englishman who served in Burgoyne's army, taken prisoner by the Americans when he surrendered and settled in Hopkinton. This is an obvious error as according to Middlesex County Registry of Deeds, November 12,1756 a conveyance of land was made from Simpson Jones to John Haro, both of Hopkinton,too early for Burgoyne who surrendered to the Americans on October 17,1777 at Saratoga. Mr.Ballou believed John married Sarah Chamberlain but as yet no record of the marriage has turned up. There were two children by this marriage, Ballou states. One of the children of John Hero was John who married Lois Haden,March 17,1751,both our ancestors, and Lois Harrod who married Daniel Bowker,September 3,1767.
To quote from Mr. Ballou:"John, son of John settled in that locality of Milford called "Wild Cat 2". There he had a farm of about 63 acres,deeded to him by Thomas Hayden,under date of March 1,1777. The land was wild and unbroken and it is said he cleared most of it by hard toil, digging it over with a "stout bog-hoe till fit for till-

ge. Our old settlers were not afraid of manual labor." he town lines having changed, the farm was first in Hopinton, then Holliston and finally, Milford, according to he same source, page 816.

Henry Harwood(Harod,Harrod,Hayward,Haywood,Herod)is aid to have come to New England with Gov.John Winthrop n 1630. He lived first in Boston. In 1638, he removed to alem where he had a house on Beckett Street and was a hoemaker. He married Elizabeth -, a widow with a daughter Elizabeth who married Matthew Nixon. Elizabeth Harood(Herow,Herro),died in 1679. Henry died,February,1663-.

enry and Elizabeth Harwood had a son John born in Boston n or before 1632 when he was baptized. He died before 690,jury decision. He married Em -(Emme,Gen,Genn)July 11, 659.

ohn Harad,sr. lived in West Peabody. He was found dead etween his oxen and cart,as the jury inquest were informed by his widow and their son David. The return of the jury,dated September,1690,states that they found neither ound nor bruise upon his body,only a little scratch on is face and some blood about it and decided he died a "sudden death." The jury consisted of Samuel Cutler,Robert Moulton, Samuel Frail, Joseph Foster, Thomas Greaves and Thomas Buffington,sr. This John,baptized in Boston,1632,could have been the John who married Rachel and had i.John bp.5/4/1651 and Jeremiah bp.Boston 6/8/1656. He could have been the above John who died by jury decision. There were John Heros who married a Mary, a Susanna and a Mehitable. They all had sons John born in Boston and Concord. A George Hero was in Boston in 1636. Any of the aforementioned men might have been the ancestor of our John Hero, of Upton.

Additional John Heros: John Herod of Holliston Vital Records died 2/7/1826 @70. A John Harrod married Rachel - in Boston and had a son John baptized 5/4/1651. John Har-

*3.vi. Aaron Hero,according to Ballou's History of Milford: "inherited a portion of the patrimonial homestead, and dwelt there in the old domicile. I think he was partly farmer and partly bootmaker. He was well-disposed peacable citizen,and had an excellent wife. I shall always gratefully remember that, in 1820, when my now only surviving child, Mrs. Heywood,was a motherless and puny infant Mrs. Hero took her home and nursed her at her own breast, with the tenderest care, into healthful vigor. Both she and her husband were very kind and accommodat - ing to me, and quite moderate in their charges. He died on his homestead, January 20,1865. She subsequently went to Hammonton,N.J. either on a visit to her niece,Mrs.Paschal N.Parkhurst, or perhaps to reside there, and died in the spring of 1865, surviving her husband only a few months. If I mistake not, all their children preceeded them to the spirit-land." He is as their daughter Mary Hero Ellis outlived them and Mrs. Hero died at the home of this daughter and her husband,Albert Morse Ellis,not with her niece, Mrs. Paschal N. Parkhurst.

Hill

John Hill of Medway and of the Sherborn families of the name of Hill was a proprietor of Dorchester,1633. He was among those on the passenger list of the Mayflower from Chaffcombe, Somersetshire, England to Dorchester. A member of the Ancient & Honorable Artillery Co.of Mass.,1643, he was a blacksmith. John was one of the selectmen of Dorchester in 1636 and admitted a freeman,1642. It is believed that he came from the vicinity of Chard, Somersetshire, England. A John Hill is given there as the tenth and youngest son of William Hill of Poundsford,son of Roger Hill, son of William. This John was born about 1571,had a son John, yeoman,living in Chaffcombe,three miles east of Chard who was 21 or over but unmarried in 1628. He removed from there in 1633.
John Hill does not seem to have been one of the Puritans as he did not belong to a church. He could not have bee admitted as a freeman without that affiliation. Most of John's estate was willed,April 11,1660 to his wife Fran ces. At her death, it was to be divided among the nine children who were the youngest of their thirteen. He al mentions his son John and the son of his son Samuel as having been helpful to him in his infirm days, and his daughter Mary who had received her portion.

John Hill was born in England about 1606. He died at Do chester on May 31,1664.

John married Frances - in England about 1629. She was born about 1608 and died in Dorchester,November 18,1676 On February 13,1667-8, Widow Hill was taxed on 18 acres in the "greate lotts." A son-in-law came from Bogistow (Sherborn or Medway) to live with her, June 12,1665. Sh married second, Jonas Austin and removed to Taunton. Sh was admitted to the Dorchester church sometime before 1639 and dismissed from it, June 28,1674. They resided at Dorchester.

Holbrook

The Holbrooks are of an ancient family in England. In the early part of the thirteenth century,Richard de Holbrooke is found in the Hundred Rolls of Suffolkshire. Roger de Holebrookke is listed with William de Holebroc on the Nottinghamshire Rolls and the Lincolnshire Rolls respectively. The name is not widespread in England though there are parishes which bear the name. The name is undoubtedly derived from a locality as there are three parishes called Holbrook.
Sir Richard de Holebrok was the recipient of the first known grant of arms to the family. He was of Suffolk and Norfolk and on the Charles Roll of 1285-1295. The arms are: Or,a chevron between 10 crosses crosslet gules.
Sir Richard de Holbrok, son of William de Holebroc of Lincolnshire,was granted a free warren of Tatingeston, Benetkeye,Rushagh and Foxhole,County Suffolk and at Senges,Norfolk, June 16,1297. He also was the custodian of the King's castles in twenty different counties. He was appointed steward between the bridges of Oxford and Stamford,November 16,1275. In 1276,he was made escector of Oxford and Stamford. He was a witness to the homage of Alexander,King of Scotland in Parliament at Westminster,September 29,1278. He held many positions of trust including that of steward to the king in May,1285.

Richard de Holbrok died,February 27,1291. He married Isabella -.

The same names of Thomas,Isabella and John reappear in th descendants of the de Holbroks of Suffolk. The Holbrook and the Tylye families are closely related. In 1379,a William Holbrook made William Tylye of Glastonbury Abbey his heir. There were numerous marriages between the two families during the 16th and 17th centuries. Elizabeth,sister of our American progenitor married William Tylye at the Church of St.John the Baptist,Glastonbury,in 1611.
Our English ancestor was Thomas Holbrook who married Constans Thayer at Thornbury,Gloucestershire,February 19, 1560. Glastonbury,the home of Thomas Holbrook,was only a few miles from Thornbury. He was born about 1530.

4.iv. Thomas Holbrook,son of John and Sarah Holbrook,was born about 1627 ,Weymouth and died, Sherborn, April 11, 1705. He, with George Allen and Anthony Fisher, was a freeman of Dorchester, May 1645. He purchased 30 acres of land from Elizabeth Stoughton, widow of Col. Israel Stoughton, 1648, Dorchester. March 8,1652, Thomas,Nicholas Wood and Andrew Pitcher of Dorchester bought 535 acres of woodland from Richard Parker of Boston, in Sherborn. The three men divided this land and Thomas built his first home with an extensive orchard. Abner Morse writes that his hospitality with his orchard secured his buildings from the Indian's attacks while those of his neighbors were laid in ashes.

In 1662 and 1674,Thomas signed the petitions for the incorporation of Sherborn. He was one of Sherborn's first proprietors. He and Nicholas Wood received the first transfers of land in Sherborn. In 1666,he erected a new dwelling house and in 1682 he owned 300 acres of the early grants. That year,with nine others,he extinguished the Indian claims. He drew 112 acres of common land in Sherborn 1682 and 1684. Thomas, of the forty freeholders in 1686, was rated fourth in amount to satisfy the Indian claims to the lands. He was a freeman and in 1690, a selectman. His will was written, May, 1704, giving his homestead to his son Eleazer and to his son Thomas, he gave a large grant of land. Nathaniel received a smaller amount of land and John received 20 acres. Elizabeth McIntosh, Hannah Battle,Patience Leland and Susanna Morse, his daughters, received bequests of money and land. His will was probated, April 23, 1705.

Thomas Holbrook married Experience Leland, daughter of Hopestill and Experience Leland,born about 1638 and died about 1655. He married second, Hannah Shepard, daughter of John and widow Margaret(Squire)Shepard of Medfield. They were married, May 28,1656. She was born in England. Thomas married ~~second~~ third,1668,widow Margaret Bowker said to have been the "daughter of a Swede" of Weymouth and the widow of Edmund Bowker. They were married,January 26, 1668-9. Homer

The Homer line is incomplete at this time but the origin of the name and the Homers is in England and is presented here. To date there is no proof that Capt.John Homer who emigrated to Boston is our ancestor.
The name Homer is probably derived from the manor Homere in County Somerset, England. It is now called Hummer, meaning a high lake or a high ridge of land.
Thomas de Homere,Lord of the manor of Homer in 1338 appears in two deeds in Staffordshire. It is thought he left his native county on account of a duel in Ettingall, near Bilston, parish of Sedgley. The house built ere was taken down in 1868. It was built of wood,prov- g it was built before Elizabeth 1 was queen.

1626, Edward Homer built a pew in the church at Sedg- y. This pew was later given to Earl Dudley who had it ilt in The wainscot of the Park, Wren's Nest Hill near dley. In 1887, Earl Dudley gave this pew to F.A.Homer, q.,J.P. of Sedgley.
e name Homer or Holmer first appears in the Parish re- ster in Sedgley in 1560. In 1552, the adjoining county Worcester lists Holmer and in 1559 and 1561 as Homer. nf. A Robert Homer, only Homer listed in Stoneham Vital Records was born in 1730 and died October 24,1822. He married (Mrs.)Rebecca Richardson. He served in the Revolutionary War. Our ancestor, Rebecca Homer, born,March 5, 1763 was undoubtedly the daughter of this marriage though her birth record has not been found.
Rebecca Homer was married to Paul Ellis as his second wife, in Royalston, April 5, 1786. Her father may have been the John Homer found in the area, in Winchendon in 1772 as the "new immigrant of Winchendon." He had a lease for a house lot. He was chosen on a committee to draft a plan for the town in 1774,one of five committeemen. He was replaced on the committee,August 4,1774 because he had died.
In Ancestry & Descendants of Amos Ellis of New Salem,Mass Albert Trantum Ellis states she was born in Stoneham,March 5,1763. The mother of Rebecca could have been the Hannah Homer, widow of John who died,July 7,1778 in Medfield,as Rebecca's husband Paul came from that area originally.

Other Homers who were in New England in the 1600's are Michael, who according to the Record of Commissioners, City of Boston Doc.130-1883, married Mary Burroughs,July 13,1693 by Cotton Mather. A Hannah, widow of Michael died,April 28,1693. Benjamin Homer, son of John and Margery Homer was born,May 18,1698.

Rebecca(Homer)Ellis is said by Ballou in History of Milford,Mass. to have been born,March 6,1761 and died,December 4,1810. As a matter of record,she died after her husband as she testified in her application for a pension for his service during the Revolution. It was to commence March 4,1843, her deposition having been taken,August 15, 1839. She testified that Paul Ellis was a native of Medway, in the county of Norfolk and State of Massachusetts, and late of New Salem in the county of Franklin. She also states he resided in the town of Medway after his service in 1778 and moved to Royalston in the county of Worcester. From Royalston he removed with his family to New Salem in the county of Franklin where he remained during the remainder of his life. Rebecca died in New Salem of "lung fever" on December 4,1843 at the age of eighty years and nine months.

Rebecca further states she was married to Paul Ellis on the fifth day of April,1786 by Rev. Joseph Lee, minister of a church in the town of Royalston. He died the eighteenth day of what looks to be November,1827. Her deposition was taken at her home for reasons of bodily infirmity.

Paul Ellis was listed in the Heads of Families,1790,as having four white males under 16 and two free white females of any age. In the History of Royalston,Mass.,page 457 by Lilley B. Casell, "Erected to the memory of Mary Ellis,wife of Mr. Paul Ellis,who died January 22,1786,24 years of age." This was Mary (Clark)Ellis,first wife of Paul whom he married in Medway,May 26,1779. She was the daughter of Asa and Betty(Barstow)Clark,born in Medway, October 22,1761 and she had two or three children by Paul. Amos Ellis, son of Paul and Mary Ellis and Lydia Ellis, their daughter are the births found. Mary (Clark) Ellis died four years after the birth of this daughter. Clark Ellis,first son of Paul and Rebecca(Homer)Ellis was evidently named after his father's first wife's family, a not uncommon practice in those days.

The discrepancies in dates by Adin Ballou only strengthens the fact that Paul Ellis was the son of Timothy and Sarah Ellis. Either our Timothy married Sarah Harding five months after Paul's birth or he married a Sarah whose surname is unknown.

The children of Paul and Rebecca(Homer)Ellis are reported by Adin Ballou and Albert Trantum Ellis in their book. The New Salem records were destroyed by fire in 1855. Paul is recorded as a school teacher and licensed Baptist preacher in Royalston who sold his "place" to Levi Thurston next south to Daniel Warren in Royalston. He was an assessor in Royalston from 1786 to 1795. He removed to New Salem in 1800.
The children of Rebecca(Homer) and Paul Ellis include Clark Ellis who married Mary Morse.

Jeffords

The name Jeffords was spelled Giffords in England. It appears first at the time of the Norman Conquest in 1066. At that time, Osburne Giffords came to England with William, the Conqueror. His descendants were: Walter, Ellis (Helias),Ashburne,Sir John, Roger, Nicholas and Francis of St.James Abbey. Francis is the progenitor of our New England Jeffords or a son named Francis. He died in 1625 leaving a son Francis, a tallow chandler by trade, in London. It is thought this son came to America early in 160
There are five different Jeffords coats-of-arms belonging to:

- Giffords of Chillingham
- Giffords of Ireland
- Giffords of Wexford-Staffordshire
- Giffords of Scotlar
- Giffords of Wexford

Various spellings have occurred,including Giffards,Jaffords,Gifford,Jeford,Jefford,Jafora,Jefferds,Jafford,etc Our line is Giffords of Chillingham. Their shield: A sable,a lion rampant or,between 3 scaling ladders or. Their cres: a castle with two towers or Fac Rects at Nil Time (Do right and fear nothing).
Francis Jeffords,our ancestor was the son of Francis and was thought to have come from London. He was one of eigh children and a chandler by trade. Nothing has been written of him or his family until his name appears on a lis n 1679 and as a witness in 1678. He was a jury man,1681. e removed to Maine from Boston and was killed by Indians t Casco Bay about 1690.

2. John Jeffords was the son of Francis Jeffords. He appears first in Salem, removing to Hopkinton. He was a land wner and a farmer and died in Hopkinton about 1740. he name of John's first wife is not known but he was married to Lydia Bayley, his second wife, May 5,1721. Lydia as born in Newbury, November 25,1695,daughter of Joseph nd Priscilla Bayley of Newbury. After John's death, she arried, December 5,1760, George Robinson.

Some of the nobility of Scotland came from foreign lands. It is said that the Keiths were of that class. This ancient family is supposed to have derived its origin from Robert, a Catti chieftain of Germany. In 1006, Robert, at the battle of Panbridge, killed Camus, the general of the Danes with his own hands. It is written in the Encyclopedia of Biography, Vol. III, American Historical Society, 1916 that King Malcomb "perceiving this achievement, dipped his fingers in Camus' blood and drew red strokes, or pales, on the top of Robert's shield, which have since been included in the armorial bearings of his descendants. As a reward for his deed, King Malcomb gave Robert lands including the Barony of Keith, East Lothian. He was hereditary great marischal of Scotland, which office the family retained until 1715. They had served their country for over seven hundred years. Marischal College in Scotland was founded by George, the fifth Earl of Keith, 1593. Our ancestor, James Keith was on the roll of that college in 1657.

James Keith was educated in Aberdeen, Scotland according to records. Ziba C. Keith, in 1889 searched the ancient family in Descendants of Benjamin Keith through Timothy, son of Rev. James Keith, back to 1006 but was unable to ascertain James' parentage. Their arms were: Argent, on a chief, three pallets or gules; crest: On a wreath, a stag's head erased proper, and attired with ten tynes. Their motto: Weritas Vincit (Truth conquers).

James Keith came to Boston in 1662, aged eighteen years. He was introduced to the church in Bridgewater by Rev. Increase Mather. In the records of that church, James is referred to as a student of divinity. From the mentioned American Historical Society, 1916: "The text of his first sermon was from Jeremiah 1;6: "Behold I cannot speak, for I am a child," and it was said to have been delivered from a rock in the "mill pasture", near the river. His advice and influence with the civil authorities of the colony seem to have been considerable, instanced in the case of the Indian chief, King Philip's wife and son; when the question as to what was to be done with the son came up, Keith stated in a letter to Rev. Cotton that he was "in favor of mercy" and though he differed from most others, his opinion had great weight if it was not decisive in sparing the boy's life.

The house where James Keith lived was built in 1662 and enlarged in 1678. In 1837, it was remodelled. It was a double house lot of twelve acres.

James Keith was ordained in the church in Bridgewater as its first minister in 1664. He married Susanna Edson, the daughter of Deacon Samuel and Susanna(Orcutt)Edson,May 3, 1668. She died,October 16,1705,aged 65 years and they had nine children,born in Bridgewater where they resided. Rev. James Keith married second, Mary Williams in 1707, widow of Thomas Williams of Taunton. The Rev. Keith died, July 23,1719, the same day as his wife Mary.

Lovell

The original name of the family of Lovell was Percival, from a place in Normandy. Asceline, chief of that place in the early 12th century, acquired the name of Lupus, (the wolf)because of his violent temper. His son William, Earl of Yvery, was nicknamed Lupellus which meant little wolf. The name was later changed to Lupel or Luvel,later becoming Lovel.
Robert Lovell, born about 1595, was a freeman of Roxbury in 1635. He came from Weymouth, Dorsetshire, England on March 20, 1635 with Rev. Joseph Hull's small company. He was a farmer and with him came his wife Elizabeth, aged 35 and his children Ann, aged 16, Zacheus aged 15, John aged 8 and Ellen and James, twins aged one year. A servant named Joseph Chicken or Chickin,aged 16 accompanied the family. They arrived at Dorchester, June 7,1635 when Robert was forty years old. He was among those who received arms from Col.Pyncheon in 1636 and was a proprietor in 1643. His will, dated April(May) 3,1651 was proved June 25,1672. His wife Elizabeth was executrix. She also was born in England, in 1600.

Maynard

John Maynard, the first of the name in Sudbury, was bor in 1610 in England. He had been married in England befo his emigration and he brought his son John to New England with him. He was in Sudbury as early as 1638. He and forty-six others shared in the division of Sudbury Meadows in 1639. He was a selectman as well as an original proprietor of the town. In 1656 he petitioned for the grant of Marlborough and removed there. John died,December 10,1672. He was a freeman in 1644.

John Maynard married, June 16,1646, as second wife, Mary Axtell, Widow of Thomas Axtell(Axdell) in Sudbury.
John Maynard's son John was about eight years old when they came to America. He married Mary Gates,probably born in England, April 5,1658. This is a change from The American Historical Society,Vol.11,page 345 which states the first John Maynard married Mary Gates,daughter of Stephen and Ann(Hill)Gates. The children credited to them were born to John and Mary(Axdell)Maynard.
Mary Axdell's surname is not known but she had a daughter by her first husband who married our John Goodenow.

Morse

The name Morse has been traced by others to the time of William the Conqueror. It was spelled Mors, Morss, Moss, Morsse, even in the colonial records. Only the race of Samuel has observed the uniform spelling of Morse. Anthony and William, brothers of Samuel, used the Morss spelling and John's family spelled their name Moss. In 1177, a treaty between Henry 11 and William of Sicily bears the signature of testimony "Ego Justus Mass,Episcopus." We can assume that Bishop Mazz was a Norman , considering that Henry 11 inherited Normandy and that he was the only grandson of William the Conqueror. The Moss was probably derived from the Latin word meaning fashion or from the seaport in Norway called Moss.

In the reign of Edward 111 in England, the name Morse first appears. It is an honored and a common name in England. Some of the name have enjoyed landed estates and high official offices. The motto of the coat-of-arms is: "In Deo non armis fido," translated to "I trust in God, not in arms."

Samuel Morse, our ancestor, was one of seven brothers. He was one of the founders of Dedham and Medfield. He came to New England with his wife and seven children on the Increase of London, Robert Lea, Master at the end of July,1635. Before leaving England, it was necessary that pilgrims obtain a certificate, duly witnessed, as the English authorities were becoming alarmed at the exodus of some of their best citizens. Samuel obtained the certificate, April 15,1635, "having taken the oath of allegiance and supremacy, as being conformable to the orders and discipline of thee Church of England from the Justices and Ministers where their abodes had lately been." Even though sources state that Samuel came to N.E. with his wife and seven children,he is reported in the passenger list as Samuel Morse 50 husbandman, Mrs. Elizabeth Morse 48, Joseph Morse 20 and Elizabeth Daniell. No other children were on the list. It was the custom of the day to secretly take children of passengers aboard ship since the authorities would not always grant permission for so large a family group to leave England. Restriction of emigration was made to the Archbishop and vessels were frequently detained in the River Thames. Samuel and Eliza - beth Morse did bring more of their children, if clandestinely after the ship's clearance.

On their arrival in the state, Samuel settled in Watertown, the metropolis of the Massachusetts Colony. About the time of his arrival, the General Court, sitting in Newtowne, granted a tract of land to twelve men, one of whom was Samuel, and among them his sons, south of the Charles River. This town was first named Contentment but soon changed to Dedham. These first settlers were of high character, orderly and industrious in their habits. They held each other and their church in high esteem. No one was allowed to remain in their community unless he or she was engaged in a worthwhile occupation. Samuel Morse was the town's treasurer and selectman and his sons advanced to civic office.

New lines were made and lots assigned to Samuel Morse and his sons in 1650 in the new town called Medfield. Here Samuel settled as did his son Joseph whose home was the first fired by King Philip's Indians when they laid that town in ashes in 1675. Eighteen of the inhabitants were killed.

Samuel Morse's birth has been given to both Rev.Thomas Morse of Fosearth, County Essex, England and to his brother, Richard Morse who married Margaret Symson,February 15,1586. The latter recorded the birth of a son Samuel, July 25,1587. In Rev. Thomas Morse's will,1596, he leaves to his sons John, Samuel, Daniell, Joseph, Jeremye, James and Nathaniell and Phillipp "my sonnes, and to Sara, my daughter, and to every of them Twentye Pounds at the age of Three and twentye years." He writes of four sons by his first wife. The Rev. Abner Morse gives Samuel to Rev. Thomas Morse without doubt.
Samuel Morse's will, October 2,1654, named his wife sole executrix and legatee of his estate, giving the estate to their children at her decease. Sons named in the will were John, Daniel and Joseph deceased. He further mentioned his daughter Mary and the widow of his deceased son Joseph,Ann or Hannah. He died, April 4,1654. He was a freeman of Dedham in 1640.
Samuel married Elizabeth - who was born in 1587 and died in 1654. They resided in Dedahm and removed to Medfield.

*2.ii. Daniel Morse,son of Samuel and Elizabeth Morse, came to New England after his parents. His home lot assigned in Dedham was in that part which is now Medfield. He later purchased 800 acres of land in Sherborn. With his sons, he was "by far the greatest landholder" in the area. He was a man of large possessions and a leader in the affairs of the town. His name for the new town was most likely used as it was Sherborn after the Sherborn in Dorsetshire, England.

Daniel Morse was first of Watertown. He removed to Dedham and then to Sherborn. He evidently attended church services in Medfield as in 1670, he was given permission to build a horseshed for Sabbath use there. He was one of the founders of Dedham and Sherborn.

In November 1675-6, Daniel petitioned Major General John Leverett, then Governor, for the help of four men to be garrisoned at his house, two from Medfield and two his sons-in-law, Edward West and Benjamin Fisk, to defend his lands and property and that of his sons and daughters from Indian attack. In 1687, he made his will, giving his homestead to his youngest child, Samuel. This was a common practice of the day as the older sons were already settled on lands adjacent to their father's as they married. "His original parchment deed, conveyed with the assent of his wife, Lydia, to John Hull, part of his estate in Medfield, June 7,1666." He was an original settler of Medfield as well as of Sherborn,1652.

Daniel Morse was born in England in 1613 and died in Sherborn, June 5,1688,aged 75 years. He was a freeman, May 6,1635;a selectman of Medfield,1655,'56,'57.

Daniel married first, Lydia Fisher, May 6,1635,daughter of Anthony and Mary Fisher who was born in England,1620 and died in Sherborn,January 29,1690. They resided in Dedham, Medfield and Sherborn.

Samuel Morse married Deborah whose surname may have been Herring, who died,October 5,1719.

In 1699,Samuel was granted 1400 acres of land on the north side of Sherborn, leading to the falls. In his will of 1704, he bequeathed to his sons Samuel,Eleazer,and Benjamin land which was purchased of Dedham,near Natick,300 acres and two more lots on and by the river,along with his father's farm. The bequests to the sons and their four sisters was appraised at 583 pounds.

Samuel Morse settled on the land in the north, Eleazer on the "farm" and Benjamin died young. Samuel resided in Sherborn.

Samuel married Mary Cook, January 13,1712-13, according to Sherborn Vital Records pages 157 and 214,daughter of Stephen and Rebecca(Flagg)Cook of Watertown. She was born there, April 15,1688 and died in Sherborn, November 20, 1787. One source reports her birth in 1695 which seems more reasonable. Their intentions to marry were published in Watertown. Phips

There were two Phipps families in New England in the 17th century. Both families were probably descended from George Phypps of Mangotsfield, England. George died in 1613,leaving all his property to his wife Joanna and their children In 1679,a second George died,leaving his four children,Robert,Elizabeth,Sarah and Mary. A Robert Phipps,yeoman, of Flax Bouton,Somersetshire, England left his wife Mary estates in Mangotsfield and to his "kinsman William Phipps, gunsmith,10 pounds and something to his daughter Martha.

ames Phipps of Pemequid came to Sheepscot,Maine from ristol, England on the James before 1649. The name was ariously spelled but the James Phips branch spelled it ith a single "p" for two hundred years. James was a gunith and a carpenter. Before 1650, he was a shipwright
t Pemequid near the mouth of the Kennebec River in Maine.
e settled Phippsburg,Maine and one of his sons was the irst royal governor of Massachusetts.
ames' wife was named Mary. According to Cotton Mather, ames and Mary Phipps had twenty-six children ,twenty-one oys and five girls. Only six of their children have ever een traced. Captain John Phips and Sir William Phips were wo of their sons.
ary Phipps, when widowed married Joseph White. She is be-

*3. i. John,only known child but there were others. He as called nephew and adopted son of Sir William Phips s he was a regular inmate of his home, according to Rev. bner Morse. However, Sir William's first will,naming his ephew as beneficiary of his vast estate was violently pposed by Lady Phips. She induced Sir William to make a ew will before leaving for England, naming her own nep-ew, son of her sister Margaret, Spencer Bennett, as the ain beneficiary. Sir William died in London, soon after aking the new will and Lady Phipps offered John a pit-tance. This he refused to accept and he purchased a farm in Wrentham before 1700.
John Phipps accompanied his uncle on his treasure hunting expeditions,and lived in Sir William's home.
Sir William and his siblings were the children of a hus-bandman and sheep raiser. Sir William was the keeper of the sheep until he left his father's farm at the age of thirteen to learn the trade of shipbuilding in Boston. It has been written that he was driven out of Maine by the hostilities of the Indians. In any case, he learned to read and write while living in Boston and he married Mary Spencer,widow of John Hull,a merchant of that city and a woman of considerable property.

One of Sir William's visions was to locate and salvage treasure from a Spanish galleon wrecked in the West Indies fifty years before. He was furnished a frigate by the English Admiralty and made its commander. The first quest was unsuccessful but the Duke of Albemarle and others furnished him with a second ship and the gold and silver were located. He was alloted about 300,000 pounds as his share of the treasure. The ship was named "Algier Rose" and the date of the find was 1683. He was accompanied by his nephew. He was an accomplished diver as well as a skilled mathematician. He was knighted for his success by James 11 on June 28,1687. He returned that same year to New England and was made Sheriff of New England. He joined Cotton Mather's church, March 8,1690 and was a freeman two weeks later. After he led an attack on the French in Nova Scotia in 1690, he was appointed governor of Massachusetts on Increase Mather's recommendation to the king.

Sir William did not make a good governor and was recalled to London for indecent and boisterous conduct in 1694, according to James Savage's account in Genealogical Dictionary of New England. William died in London,February 18,1695 and his widow erected a monument of white marble at St.Mary Woolnoth, London. This is near where his body is interred.

John Phips, nephew of Sir William was also an adventurer. He accompanied his uncle on his famous treasure hunts. John married Mary - who was born in 1672 and died February 14,1754,aged 82 years. They resided in Wrentham.

Partridge

There is some controversy,concerning the facts of the marriage of Joseph Daniels to Rachel Partridge but it is included here as a family line.
The name Partridge can be found in the early records of New England with the various spellings Partredg,Partridg, Partridge and Partride. The early ancestor was Capt. John Partridge who lived in Navestock, England. Noted equarians have written much of this family as they were a prominent one in England. In 1066 William,Duke of Normandy made grants of land to his countrymen in his new lands of conquest over Harold,then king of England. In recognition of his services rendered in battle, William made land grants in the conquered kingdom. After his death, his successors continued the land grants during the next wars. "Partridge,the Norman" was the recipient of one such grant. He is said to have emigrated during 1135-1154 and received from Henry 11 (1154-1189), in recognition of his military service, estates in Essex. The family afterward settled in Gloucestershire. The original and Norman spelling of the name was Pertriche. Richard Pertriche is recorded as being the head of the family with manors in the country of Gloucester in 1254. The grants from royalty proved the family to have been in favor at court as well as one of ancient distinction.
John Partridge,grandson of John Partridge of Olney,Buckinghamshire, England, was a descendant of Richard de Pertriche of Wishanger Manor, Goucestershireshire, England. John Partridge had three children born in Navestock,England and probably was accompanied by his children when h came to New England. He had an account in the General Cou October 17,1649 with Capt. Clarke.

He and his brother William had house lots in Dedham on what was called "The Bachelor's Roe." Both signed the pro prietors' agreement. John had a share in the division of land in Dedham, March 7,1652. He was a selectman and a clerk of the market, 1672,an original proprietor of Med-field and he was first mentioned there in 1653. His hous was burned at the time of the Indian raid in 1676 along with 20 bushels of grain and 10 or 11 head of cattle and two horses. John died,May 28,1706. His will was proved, June 25,1706,mentioning sons John, Eleazer,Samuel and Zachariah as well as his daughter Rachel,wife of Theophilus Clark and three grandchildren, Eleazer and Obadiah Adams and Hannah Rockwood.

Rockwood

The names Rockwood and Rocket were once identical. In England, the Rockets are virtually unknown while the Rockwoods are an ancient family. The name was probably derived from Rocky Woods where the first of the name lived. Tradition says that a page by the name of Rockwood,at the court of Henry Vlll,in a game of chess with his king,won a manor belonging to one of the monasteries given in his reign. In commenoration of the victory, the page received from his king, 6 chess rooks for his arms.
Only one Rockwood of New England left issue. Richard, ancestor of all of the name in Massachusetts, was probably the brother of John Rocket of Dorchester. He also was of Dorchester, as a planter, in 1636. He and his wife sold a house in that year and 20 acres of land at Weymouth.This property was formerly owned by Zachary Bicknell which belonged to his widow,Agnes. The General Court, March 9, 1636-7 bound the son John, when of age, to either ratify the sale or to "allow such costs as the Court shall think meete", from Genealogies of Several Ancient Puritans by Abner Morse, A.M. 1857

Richard Rockwood married at least twice. His second wife was the widow of Zachary Bicknell of Weymouth. Agnes came to New England with her husband Zachary,their son aged 1 and a servant,John Kitchin with Rev.Hull's company before March 20,1634-5. She died at Braintree May 9,1643.
Richard Rockwood married third,Ann - who died in Braintree, 1664. He died in 1660. He was a first proprietor of Medfield.

*2.ii. Lydia Rockwood, daughter of Richard Rockwood was born in England and died, March 3,1675-6 in Medfield. Lydia married before 1653, Edward Adams of Medfield as his first wife. Edward was the son of Henry and Edith (Squire) Adams, born in England about 1629 and died in Medfield, November 12,1716.
Lydia(Rockwood) and Edward Adams resided in Medfield where Edward was the last of the original settlers to die. He married Abigail Day of Dedham as his second wife in 1710. As third wife, Edward Adams married Sarah Taylor.
Lydia (Rockwood) and Edward Adams had nine children including John Adams born in Medfield who married as second wife, Susanna Breck in 1682.

Symonds

Mark Symonds was born about 1584 in England where his name was spelled Simonds,Simmons or Symonds. Samuel Symonds,gentleman of Ipswich, was a proprietor there in 1637-8. He was from Much Yeldham,Essex County,England. Though no proved relationship exists between them,it is assumed that Mark was also of England.
Mark Symonds was a commoner of Ipswich, 1641,took the freeman's oath at Boston, May 2,1638. He died, April 28, 1659, aged 75 years at Ipswich.
In 1659, Mark Symonds owned a house and twelve acres of land and a planting lot at Reedy March. His house and land were in the common fields of the north side of the river in Ipswich. The inventory of his estate was dated May 16,1659.
Mark Symonds married Joanna - who died at Ipswich,April 29,1666. Her will was dated,April 6,1666 and proved May 5,1666.

Priscilla married John Warner,son of William Warner of Boxstead, Essex County, England where he was born, about 1615. They resided in Ipswich and Brookfield. Priscilla was John's second wife. They had eleven children,including Joanna Warner who married Robert Claflin,October 14, 1664.
The name of John Warner's first wife is not known. In 1680,John Warner received a grant of 20 acres of land in Hadley. His son Mark received 12 acres there.
Priscilla(Symonds)Warner worked as a domestic after the death of her husband, in John Pynchon's home from April 20,1695 to March 24,1695-6 as there is a record of her having been paid 2 pounds,three shillings for her services. She was about 75 years old in 1695. She undoubtedly was cared for by her sons in Hadley.

The name Thayer has an ancient origin. Thayre,Theare or Thayer are represented in an old French name of Thiadher mentioned in A.D.799. Later, it was spelled Thierre in France. In old English, it was spelled as Tawer, Tawyer as dresser of leather. Ralph le Tawyere was in the Hundreds Rolls of Wiltshire, A.D.1273. The family used the name as Tayer,Tawyer and Tayre, an occupation. The letter "h" was added soon after the first of the name came to New England.

Thomas and Richard Thayer probably sailed from the port of Bristol, since it was close to their home in Thornbury, Gloucestershire, England. Thornbury is renowned as the site of Thornbury Castle and the church there which served royalty of England, namely Henry VIII.

Kyneton Homestead at Thornbury was the seat of the Thayer family from the reign of Edward 11, 1307-1327. The title of the homestead means King's Village in Saxon. The author of a fairly recent genealogy of the Thayer family does not claim this to be the home from which Thomas and Richard were born. There undoubtedly was some connection but there is no one of the name of Thayer or Tayer now living in Thornbury.

There was a John Tayer of Thornbury, Gloucester County, England in 1600, as his will is recorded with the date, December 31,1600, proved March 1600-1. A further will of a Thomas Tayer of Thornbury is dated February,1622,proved, May 20,1623 and he bequeaths to Ferdinando, his son and a son Francis.

There are Thayer arms and crest but no evidence of such is on the monument or a tablet at the family church in Thornbury, the ususal custom of those bearing arms.

Thomas Thayer of Thornbury, Gloucestershire, England arrived in Massachusetts shortly before his brother Richard. They came first to Boston where Richard was admitted a freeman in 1640. He died at Braintree, August 27, 1695.

Thomas Thayer married in England, Margery Wheeler, April 13,1618. She died, February 11,1673. They brought their three sons, Thomas, Ferdinando and Shadrach with them. Thomas was granted land at Braintree in the amount of 73 acres for nine persons in the family. He was born in England in 1596 and died, June 2,1665 at Braintree. His will was made, June 21,1664 and he called himself "shoemaker and signed with his mark. His wife Margery was to inherit all his estate. Then it was to pass on to their sons on her death. His will,dated June 24,1664 was proved on September 13,1665.

The lands granted Thomas Thayer in Braintree remained in his family until at least 1872.

Thomas Thayer's wife Margery Wheeler was born in Thornbury,Gloucestershire,England,daughter of Abell and Jane (Shepard)Wheeler. She married,April 13,1618, Thomas in England and died at Braintree, February 11,1673. She came to New England with her family. They resided in Braintree and had four children.

In the new township of Mendon, he was one of the largest property owners, a man of wealth and he held many town offices. He provided all his sons with farms of their own,several becoming extensive landowners. Some of the lands have never passed out of the family.
Ferdinando Thayer married, January 14,1652, Huldah Hayward of Braintree, daughter of William and Margery(Knight) Hayward born in England and died in Mendon, September 1, 1690. They resided in Braintree and Mendon.

Thurston

The name Thurston is believed to be of Saxon origin or of Danish beginnings, meaning trusty or faithful. It has been found as Turstin from tne Teutonic,both Saxon and Norman.
In Thurston Genealogies by Brown Thurston, 1880,page 2, "Thurston and others from the god Tor,son of Odin and Arthur" and "Thurston-local-hill or town where the Saxon god Thor was worshipped."
The name Thurston has also been found as Scandinavian, originally Thor-sten, meaning Thor's stone. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow wrote,May 11,1877 from Cambridge,"Thorston,Thorsten and Thurston must be one and the same. The stone of Thor" - the thunder god.
Thorstein,son of Erik the Red, made an unsuccessful visit to New England in 1005 and died on tne expedition.
The following records are taken from Thurston Genealogies by Brown Thurston,1880:
Thurston,a Danish monk,lived in the Abbey of Croyland,800
Thurston, another Danish monk,mentioned in history 879
Thurston,a Thane,lived in 1014 under King Canute
Thurston was a coiner under King Edward in 870
Thurston at York,coiner under King Ethelrod 917 to 1013
Thurston a knight in King Edward's suite in 1048

Thurston in Norwich 1066
Thurston under King Henry 11 1109
Thurston,the Abbot of Glastonbury,retired 1084 to Caen Normandy from whence he came;afterwards restored in time of King William Rufus Thurston elected 28th archbishop of York,chaplain and secretary to Henry 11 in 1100. He founded Fountain Abbey in 1132.

Thurston,archbishop of Fife,Scotland in 12th century
Walter Thurston vicar of Mettingham,Suffolk County 1349
John Thurston and Margaret,his wife were imprisoned in Colchester Castle where he died,May 1557,wife in 9/17/1557 burned

Several of the name of Thurston were emigrants to New England. Daniel Thurston was in Newbury and died without issue. Another Daniel, probably a nephew,was married in 1655. The emigrant we are concerned with is John. Richard was of Salem in 1636,removed to Boston. Charles was in Plymouth in 1643 and John was of Dedham and Medfield. Thomas Thurston, a Quaker,was on the Speedwell,1656,imprisoned in Boston and returned,forcibly to England. A Thomas Thurston resided in Southold,L.I.1670-1692.

John Thurston, a carpenter of Wrentham,Suffolk County, England,was baptized,January 13,1601. When he was thirty-six years old, he came with his wife Margaret,aged 32,on the ship Mary Anne of Yarmouth from Wrentham,England,May 10,1637. Bringing their two older sons with them, they settled first at Dedham. They were owners of a land grant there, February 16,1643 and were received into the First Church at Dedham, March 28,1641 and November 12,1643. John and Margaret Thurston were among the first settlers of Medfield, their land having been set off from Dedham. They had a house in Medfield in 1652. John Thurston,George Barber and Abraham Harding were authorized to lay out highways in Medfield. Those families with six acre lots were ordered to come to build the highways with their hands; those with twelve acre lots were to provide their teams and those without teams were to come three days for two. These highways were cart-roads leading to the out - lying lands and meadows.

John Thurston was given the temporary job of teaching school for the sum of 10 shillings a week. In 1675, if anyone would pay, he would take 7 shillings. His son Thomas was accepted as a townsman in 1653 and both sons contributed to the "new brick college" which was Harvard. Thomas subscribed 3 bushels of corn and 1 shilling in money, while John,jr.contributed 3 bushels of corn.

John Thurston,sr. owned land in what is now Norfolk and in Wrentham as early as 1655 when he was given permission to build a bridge over Stop River "from his meadow in Dedham bounds." The old bridge on the road from Medfield to Wrentham bore the name Thurston's Bridge for many years later. He served on the board of selectmen for eight years;in 1658 he was making the seats for the meeting-house table; 1661 he was named assistant in the seating of persons in the meeting-house,an important and ensitive chore. He outlived his wife Margaret by 23 years.

Margaret Thurston came to New England with her small family in 1637,settling first in Dedham, lated called Medfield. She was born in England about 1605 and died May 9, 1662.

Twitchell

The Twitchell family has been traced with accuracy by the late Herbert K. Twitchell,N.Y. and published by Mrs. Herbert K. Twitchell.
The immigrant, with his brother, came from Buckinghamshir England. They were descended from gentlemen,soldiers,pioneers and husbandmen. The earliest record of the family i Henry,born in Chesham,Buckinghamshire,England about 1460. He had two children, George B. and Henry. George B.was born in 1485 and had two children, Agnes and George. This son George was born in Chesham also. He had a son Richard who was born in 1540. Richard married Cicely Waller,daughter of the "WidowBirch",in 1581. There were eight children of this marriage, the oldest and youngest being immigrants to America. Joseph, one of these emigrated after his marriage and was admitted a freeman of Dorchester, 1634. He had a son Joseph whom Abner Morse confused with the father. The father,Joseph died July 13,1657. He had married Elizabeth Lovet, born in 1589 daughter of James and Joane Lovet. Land was assigned to him at Dorchester, May 14,1634 and he was admitted to the church there,1644. He died in his 75th year in 1657. His son was about 16 years old when he accompanied his parents to New England. It is said he married but he died without issue. We are concerned with his brother,Benjamin.
Benjamin Twitchell or Tuchel, arrived in Dorchester Neck, Old Harbor in 1630 or 1632. He lived in Dorchester until about 1651-2 when he removed to Lancaster and settled on September 1,1652. He was one of the fifty-five people who signed the Lancaster Covenant in the spring of 1660. These men were described as the "fathers of the town."
Benjamin Twitchell must have maintained some sort of residence in Dorchester after he removed to Lancaster as in 1659 and again in 1662, he was voted financial aid by the town for "his present necessities for clothing for himself and his children." His family appeared in Sherborn immediately after his death and settled in the vicinity of Bogestow, his former home.
Benjamin Twitchell was of Sherborn in 1663 when he purchased land from Kaine's Grant. Later, he removed to Medfield where, it is written, he was killed by Indians and his house was burned at the outbreak of King Philip's War in 1675-6. His oldest son Joseph,served in Capt.Moseley's company and participated in many battles with the Indians. Joseph signed the Sherborn Compact in 1679.

He took the freeman's oath in 1634 in Dorchester. Later, he removed again,this time to Medfield. In 1659, Benjamin was voted financial aid by Dorchester "for his present necessities for Clothing for himselfe and his Children." It is assumed he had retained a residence in Dorchester. He purchased 100 acres of land in Kaine's Grant,Sherborn, 1663. He later removed to Medfield where he was killed by Indians and his house burned at the outbreak of King Philip's War, 1675-76.

Warner

William Warner, son of Samuel Warner of Boxted, Essex County, England was baptized, March 10,1585-6 at Great Horkesley near Boxted. No record has been found of his marriage but his wife's name was Baker. She must have died before the family came to America. Our ancestor William, his daughter Abigail and his sons John and Daniel came on the Increase, Robert Lea, Master, to Ipswich, leaving England, April 15,1635.
William Warner was a freeman at Ipswich, May 2,1638 and he received a grant of land at Ipswich in 1637. He was a "planter", a member of the church at Ipswich and had considerable means.
In 1648, William died, probably at Ipswich as his name no longer appeared on the tax list. American Society, Vol.11, 1916 states he died after October 29, 1654. He resided in Ipswich in 1635.

*2.iii. John Warner,son of William Warner was born in Boxted, County Essex,England about 1615. He died at Hadley, May 17,1697. John came to New England with his father, his brother and sister on the Increase, leaving England on April 15,1635.
John acquired property in Ipswich, some of which he sold in August 6,1655 to John Woodham. The remainder of his property consisted of a house,orchard,and 7 acres of upland which, he said, "was part of my father Warner's meadow." John signed a petition, June 5,1658 with his brother Daniel to protest the continuation of a certain tavern in Ipswich. John was probably the first settler in Brookfield.
The name of John's first wife is not known but he married Priscilla Symonds in 1639 as second wife, born about 1620 in England, daughter of Mark and Joanna Symonds of Ipswich. They removed to Brookfield after living in Salem, nd from there,after the burning of Brookfield,August, 675 in the Indian attack, they removed to Hadley. In he records of Massachusetts Bay, May 9,1678: "In answer o the Peticon of Jno Warner of Hadley,humbly declaring is being debilitated as to nature and estate,aged,un - ble to beare the burden of watchings, wardings, and raynings, desiring the Court's favor for his exemption herefrom for time to come, the Court grants his request." n 1680, John Warner received a grant of 20 acres of land n Hadley,in what was called Partrigg's Swamp, and his son ark received 12 acres there. He sold his house lot in rookfield, November 11,1691. His will was dated,May 17, 692 with bequests of his property to his sons Mark,Na- haniel and Eleazer. His wife, according to Louis E.Roy, .D. in his Quaboag Plantation,alias Brookfield,worked s a domestic after his death in the household of John ynchon from April20,1695 to March 24,1695-6,being paid pounds 3 shillings for her services. The date of her eath is not known but she was about 75 years old in 1695 so was probably cared for by her sons in Hadley.

*3.ii. Joanna Warner, daughter of John and Priscilla Warner was born in Ipswich.

Joanna Warner married, October 14,1664, Robert Claflin who died before September 19,1690. Charles H. Wight in his History of the Claflin Family states that Mark,son of John Warner was appointed as guardian of their children: Priscilla,born August 22,1672 and Abigail, born, March 19,1676 after the death of their father, Robert. Both daughters married in Hadley. Joanna and Robert Claflin had eight children, including Daniel Claflin who was married to Sarah Edwards, March 11,1701.
